Face the Changes

Proclaiming our name in bold letters, a cheerleader's sweater shows that we mean business.

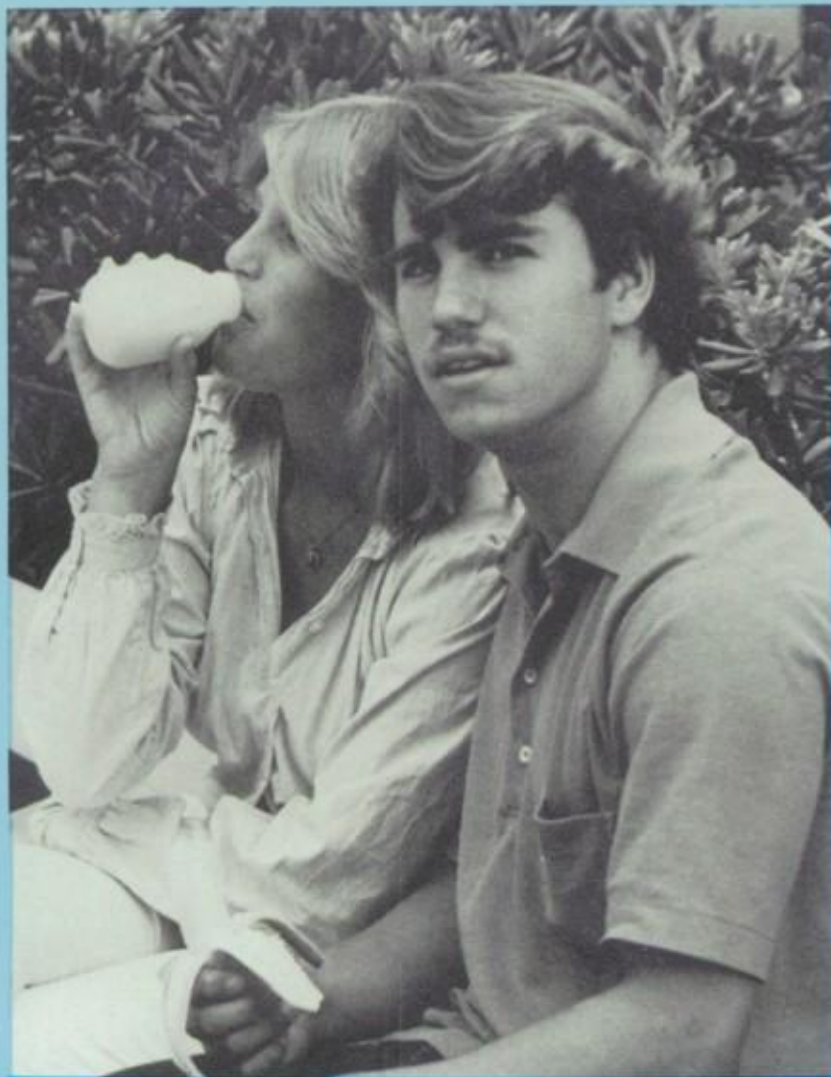

The commencement of school: the shock of being ripped from the tranquility of summer days at the beach (and elsewhere) and thrust into the six-hours-a-day, get-to-class-or-else, this-was-due-yesterday world of competitive education.

My, how those people had changed that we thought we had known so well: the radical wardrobes, the radical hair styles, the radical philosophies. The chance of cultivating a new image was too much of a temptation for many to pass up, so many didn't. We witnessed an influx of such divergent tastes that it was impossible to categorize.

Questioning your social sanity was normal behavior during the early part of the year. The usual confusion of sophomores was present, as well as the normal junior class apathy and Senioritis.

She's got Bette Davis eyes.

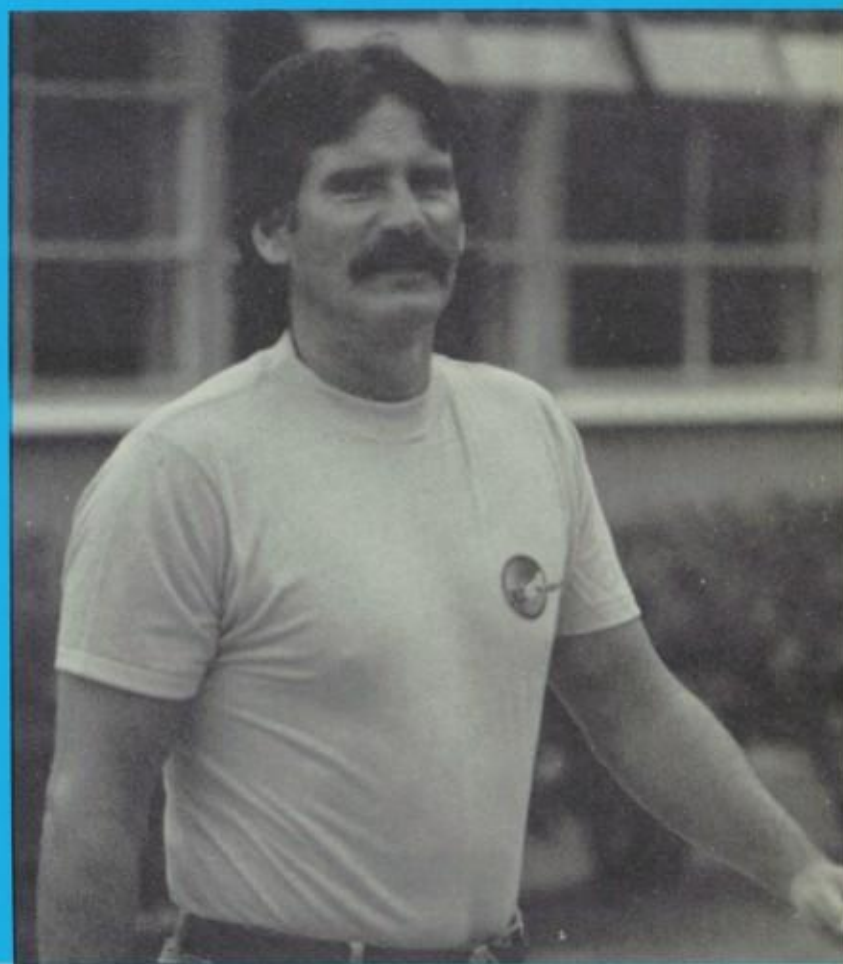

Adele Klein and Mike Miller relaxing in the noontime sun.

The Library: a place for studying, reading, wasting time, and socializing.

The crowd gets involved in school activities by being an audience at the football game against St. Augustine.

Mr. Gallaher shows school spirit by wearing his faculty t-shirt on the first day of school.

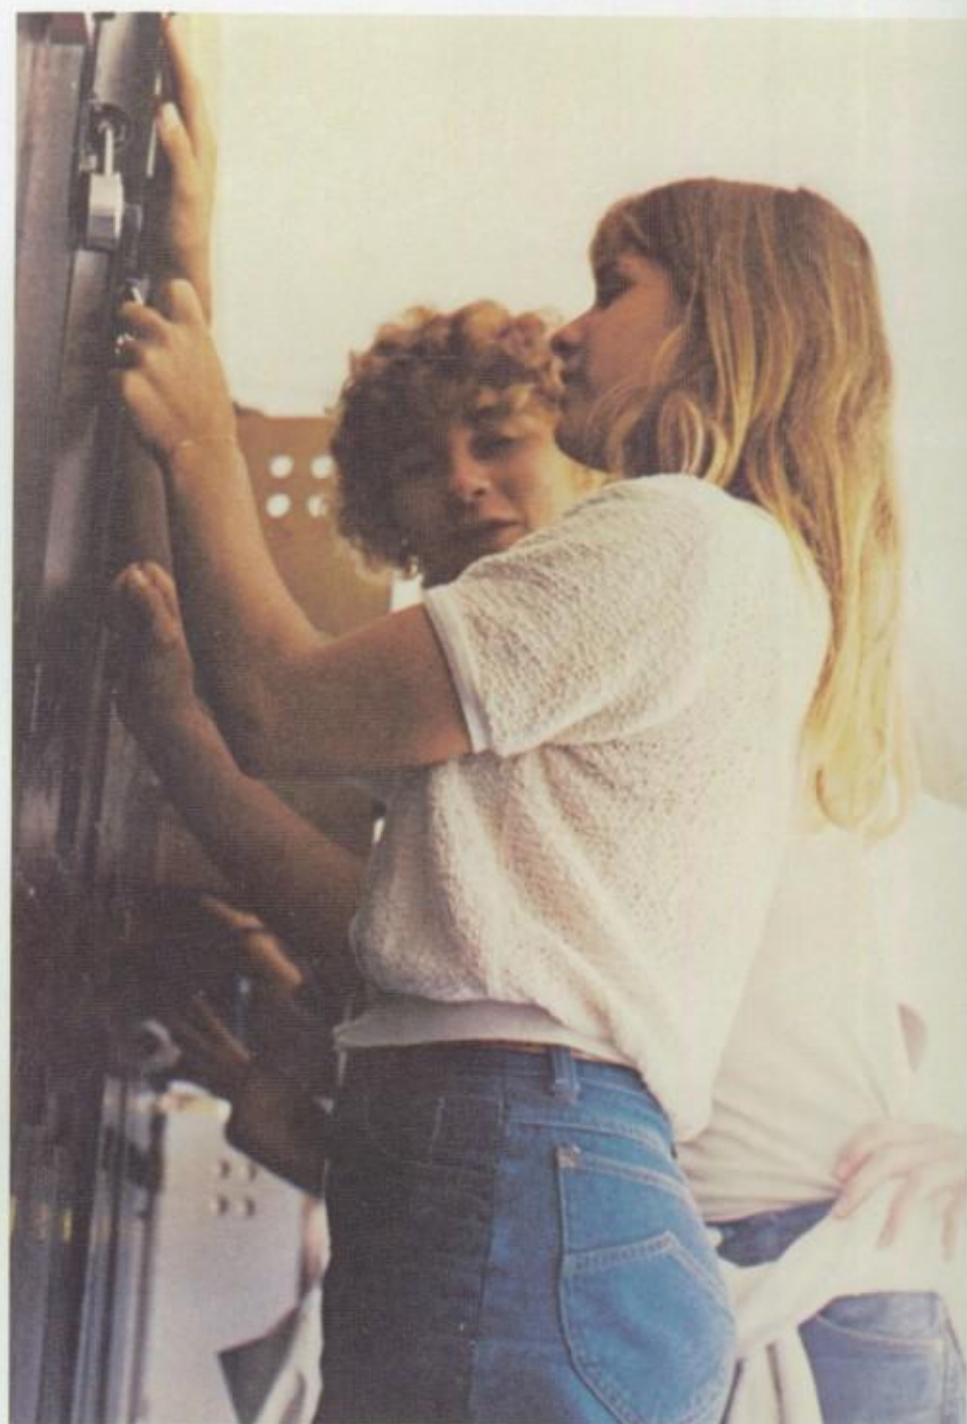

Enigmas and Answers

Mr. Zmolek and Mr. Beckett discuss important school activities.

Bill Kennedy demonstrates his interest in badminton.

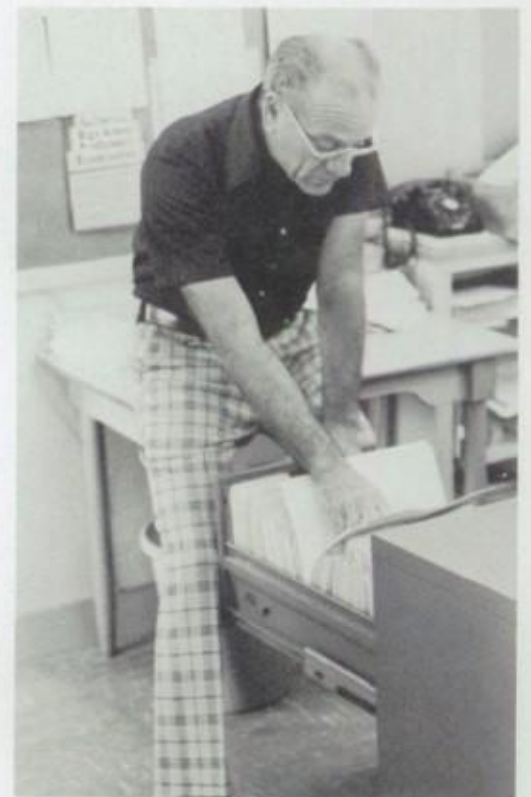

First day, mania, shock, phobia, being frightened by the alarm you haven't used since June, excruciating, looking/not looking preppy, checkin' out the guys, eyin' the chicks, eyin' the guys that are checkin' out the chicks, watching the clock, "Oh, no, I can't be late on the first day!" not having to worry about being late 'cos it's the first day but deciding to show up early anyway but somehow not quite making it there on time, being in a state of suspended animation, getting kicked out because your "immunization record is systemized incorrectly", hoping that you'll see people you know in your classes, counting the minutes to lunch, listening to teachers' first day speeches ("and we'll have none of that in my class"), finding out that block schedule will have an undetermined hiatus, getting homework the first day (arghh), waiting in the lunch line for 25 minutes and having to eat in 5, lugging all your books home and complaining about it and then not doing any homework anyway, vegging in the gym.

The Working Week

Juan Santamaria, Shawn Evans, and Jeff Wilson are intent at a Pt. Loma game.

Not writing down your locker number and never finding it again, reacquainting yourself with people you never really liked, catching up on the summer gossip, trying to find your classes in the maze of hallways, trying to find a parking place, thinking of ways to get in good with your teachers, getting work experience, going off campus for lunch and trying to get back on time, keeping your campus beautiful, wishing it was Friday, putting a little weekend in your week, decorating your locker, reading Kafka, not reading Dickens, kind of reading Hawthorne, wishing we could read Vonnegut, saying "hi" in the hallways, saying "haul" on the highways, falling dozedly and dazedly through the miles of smiles, through obtusely four-walled, four-cornered, classrooms composed in dull colors and waiting for the lovely shattering end of the day bell and knowing that it but leads to the bells of tomorrow, the bells that start another long day, but you were so, so, tired, when you at three on Monday morning finish your report, and you found that it wasn't due until the next Monday, when your dog really did eat your homework, the endless tests, overdue library books, having the cafeteria menu read in the bulletin, being sent out on referral, taking competency tests, substitute teachers.

Mr. Terrana glides through paperwork.

Peggy Morioka and Lisa Koshkarian compare answers while Steve Manes points at the numberless ceiling tiles.

Amy McMaster looks cool and detached as she sells flowers.

Janitor Don Johnson keeps the campus clean.

What It Is

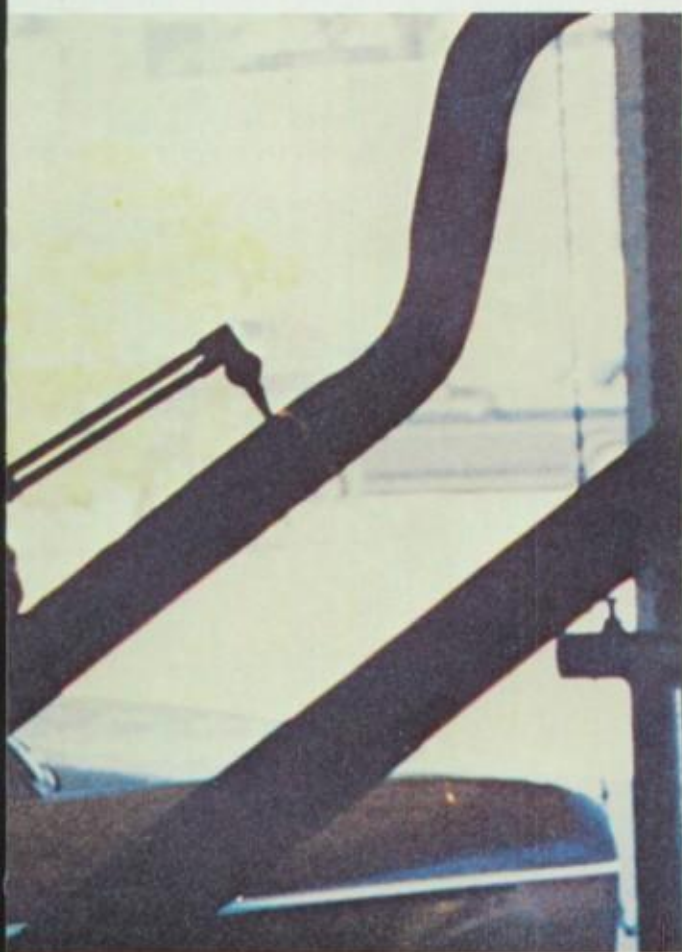

Having your moped break down on the way to school, SAT tests, aptitude tests, Career Planning Inventory tests, planning your career, cheat sheets, bringing food to class and told to go outside — scarfing it down, writing notes, daydreaming, discussing theology, coming to class unprepared, using your lunch money to buy gas, smuggling in your tape player, preparing all week to party, partying all weekend, lengthening your weekend to recover and using the rest of the week to plan for the next party, Christmas tree decorating in the library, ACT tests, the campus cats, going to concerts and missing school, getting sick and missing school, registration for the draft and the vote, applying for college, blue slips, pink slips, warnings, wearing your gym clothes all day, almost getting run over by maniacs who think they can drive, being a maniac who thinks that he can drive, driving yourself right up the wall.

The main hallway, seen unusually empty.

Mr. Campa welds away the hours.

A circumspect Mr. Dawson presides over a track practice.

The cattle drive.
Everybody splits.

Student Life

Witch, I really don't know what to (Reserved for Cathy)

Student Life is the portion of existence dedicated to the edification of educational values. But more correctly defined as the cultural lifestyle of an attentive and systematic observer.

Cheryl Nimitz, Laura Altman, Sam Kennedy, Dana Kuzcon, Elise Bartosik, and friends converse in the Main Deck.

Staff Learns Quickly

With most of the 1980-81 yearbook staff being graduating seniors, the 1981-82 season saw only two returning members: Arian Collins and Mike Nichols. Both Mike and Arian, along with newcomers Sandi Gunning and Steve Brown, spent a week of August attending the Southern California Scholastic Association workshop where they learned new techniques and design ideas that helped form the 1982 edition of the yearbook.

The rest of the staff positions were filled by Laurie Johnson, Vic Perry, Chris Myers, Kathy Turner, Derek Hacker, Robin Hall, David Marshall, Carmen Garcia, Allison Williams, Tom Belanich, Brian Bailly, Jeff Dort, Kara Grier, Eileen Polanski, Guadalupe Franco, and Julie Carpenter.

The new staff was inexperienced, so the first couple of deadlines were a mad rush of hysteria as the staff struggled to do the difficult work. Layouts had to be designed and drawn up, copy and captions had to be written, and photographs had to be taken, developed, and cropped. Then all this had to be put together in an orderly fashion on a two page spread. And finally, the 122 two page spreads were put together into the book you now have in your possession.

Hard at work to meet a deadline are Kara Grier, Arian Collins, Julie Carpenter, and Sandi Gunning.

Off to a fresh start this year was the 1981-1982 BEACHCOMBER.

This year's team of relatively inexperienced writers were led by Editors-in-Chief Laura Annino and Andi Wallace, both with two years of newspaper experience. The class stressed the fundamentals of journalism and shared their finished product, the BEACHCOMBER, with the students and faculty of Mission Bay High School.

The class also attempted many more innovative approaches in journalism under the guidance and help of Mr. Richard Brown and Mr. Steve Scott.

The BEACHCOMBER started its year with several goals, all of which were completed. The class strove to increase the amount of school, national and world news and student opinions through campus surveys.

All in all, the hard work, spirit and dedication of the class members paid off this year. Keeping the magazine format that earned them second place in county competition in 1980-81, the class filled its pages using the creative writing talents of Jenny Brown, Lisa Bowen, David Renteria, Thomas Mourinan, Sheila Davis and Michele Corbin. The skilled eyes and camera of Judy Mongan snapped the pictures to keep the BEACHCOMBER'S pages lively and interesting. In their family tradition, David Estus replaced his brother Bob as head cartoonist and illustrator.

Once layed-out, the paper was then handed to Mr. Steve Scott and his Graphics class where it was shot and printed. Within a few days, the paper was distributed and the class enjoyed a few minutes of silence before beginning the next exciting issue for its dedicated readers.

Creativity In Action

Quill and Scroll is the club for students interested in creative journalism and the writing arts. With Ms. McSwan and Mr. Brown as advisors, the club consists of yearbook staffers, Beachcomber members, and the editorial board of the magazine Hotlines, one of Quill and Scroll's major projects.

Hotlines serves as a forum for the creative efforts of MB students wishing to publish and publicize their talents. Hotlines prints poetry, prose, artwork, and photography approved by the student editorial board. The faculty advisory committee includes Mr. Homiston, Ms. McSwan, Ms. Starr, Ms. Malley, Mr. Scott, and Mrs. Edwards.

Here Comes the "Queen!" — Cathy Ahern

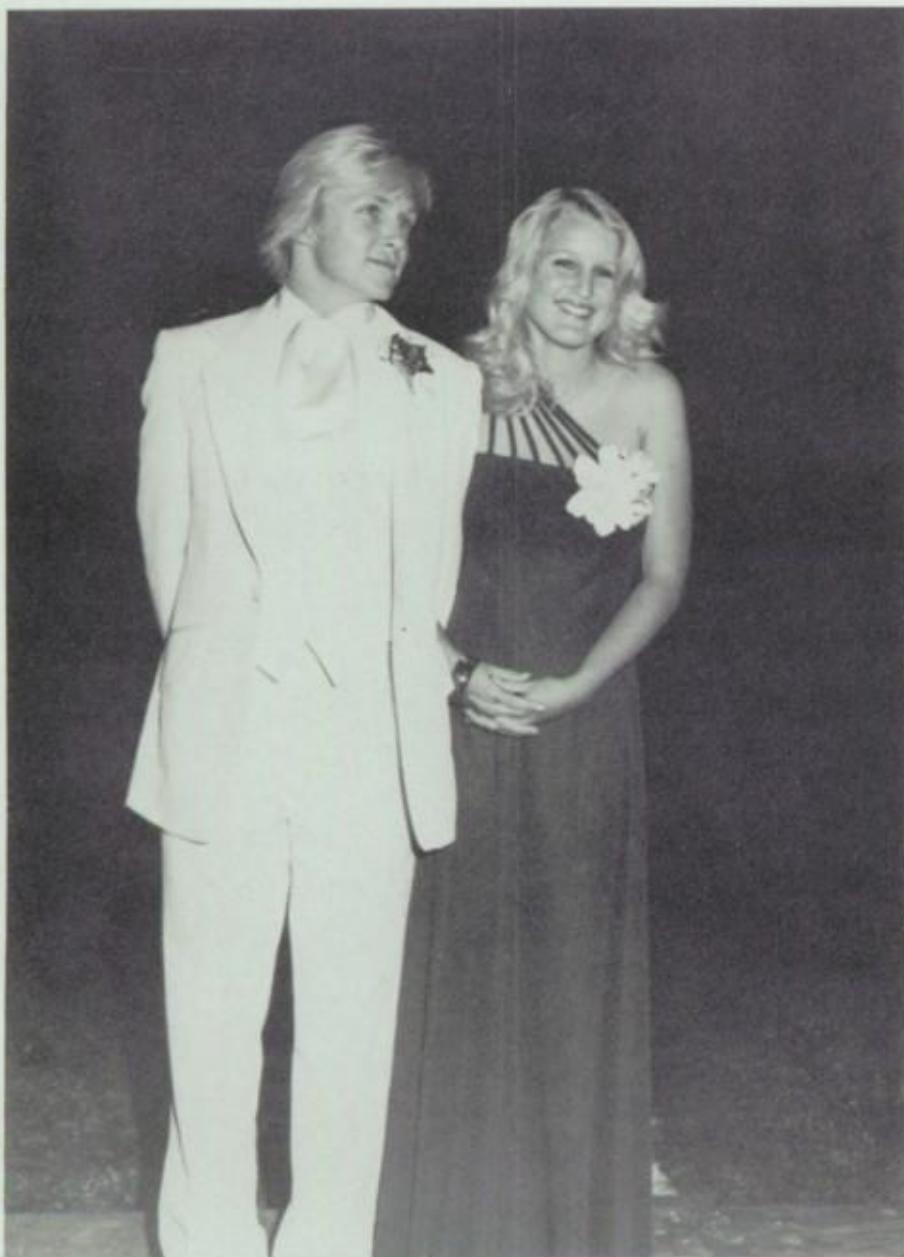

During the halftime of the Homecoming game, the excitement and anticipation of the week's activities came to a climax. The Homecoming court arrived in chauffeur driven cadillacs and assembled on the field to await the results. The Senior attendants included Ingrid Otte-son, Kim Tilton, and Cathy Ahern. The Junior attendant was Sam Kennedy and the Sophomore attendant was Kimra Watson. Susanne Hansen was the AFS attendant.

Suspense built up as the scroll containing the name of the winner was unwound. At last the name of the new Homecoming Queen was revealed. The crowd cheered wildly as last year's queen Annie Livingston crowned the joyful 1981 winner, Cathy Ahern.

On Broadway

Students, teachers, and alumni filled the stands at Madison High School on October 30 for Mission Bay's Homecoming game. The festivities started off with the parade of floats with the theme of "Broadway Musicals." The first place float, entered by the Seniors, was entitled, "South Pacific." The Sophomores' float, "The Sound of Music," took second place and the Juniors came in third with their float, "The Rocky Horror Picture Show." Other entries were the cheerleader's float, the Key Club's float, "Oklahoma," and the float of the returning class of 1981.

Kick off was at 7:30. Mission Bay took on San Diego High. During half-time Cathy Ahern was crowned 1981-82 Homecoming Queen. Spirits were high and the fans enjoyed themselves even though the Bucs were defeated 27 to 12.

Natives Tod Klingler, Mike Bark, Tyrone Harvey and Damon Mosler sway to "South Pacific."

The crowd takes a break to watch the Homecoming Court arrive.

Rhoni Shannon says, "See, I told you it was semi-formal."

October 31 was a night that many students at Mission Bay had looked forward to since the beginning of the school year. It was the night of the 1981 Homecoming Dance. It was a bit different from the preceeding years in that it fell on Halloween. This somewhat limited the attendance but enabled an outgoing few to come dressed in costume.

The band, No Future, cranked out tunes reminiscent of the 60's, which stimulated the students and alumni present. The arrival of the Homecoming Queen and her court in the middle of the dance highlighted the special evening.

Yvette Torres and Mark Mabile enjoy the music.

James Moore is told he was one of the top 5 in the City Discussion Tournament.

MB Soliloquy

1981-82 was the Speech and Debate Club's first full year of events. The club, sponsored by Mrs. Gilliland, got rolling in September when the first Seminar was held at Madison High School.

The purpose of the Speech and Debate Club was to get students involved in oral communication activities. There was not a class for the club. The students who participated did so in addition to their other classes and on their own time.

In connection with the club's oral communication efforts and their speech and debate program, they held four Student Congress sessions where students were given the opportunity to author bills and resolutions. Arguments on the pro side or the con side of a bill or resolution were debated at the Student Congress sessions. The students were allotted points for participation in the debate and prizes were given to the students with the most points.

The Speech and Debate Club also sponsored many speech contests and took students to county and city speech tournaments.

ESSA Committee is a group of students that are concerned with the social relationship of students and faculty. Their achievements are to eliminate racial/cultural isolation, reduce false expressions that cause one to feel discriminated against, and encourage both students and faculty to participate in all school activities. They are, most importantly, concerned with the unity of all similar and different ethnic groups.

Mr. Gallaher, the ESAA Advisor, has put a lot of effort to help the committee extend throughout the school. Thanks to the help and support of Mr. Kops, Mrs. Cole, and Mrs. Jerauld, the ESAA Committee will certainly be a school wide success.

For years at Mission Bay the Jazz Ensemble has won more awards than any other sponsored activity. This year was no exception. After that musical extravaganza last year in Mexico City, it seemed the Jazz Ensemble had left no room or improvement. The many long hours and hard practices have paid off. This year the Jazz Ensemble planned a trip to Hawaii. Through the Jazz Ensemble played well as a group, and their sound had to be heard to be appreciated, there were many outstanding soloists such as John Bodinger, Arthur Fisher, and Reynaldo Vinole. The music director, Rey Vinole, has been a big inspiration to the members of the group.

Choir we singing?

The Mission Bay choir has been practically non-existent. Starting a few years back, the choir started putting on mini-musicals. These have really boosted the popularity of the choir. There were 50 members in the choir this year and their popularity keeps growing. After a great winter concert, the choir started working on another mini-musical which proved to be an excellent performance. Some of the people who can be defined as "true virtuoso's" are John Bodinger, Kim Giessler, and Chris Myers. The future looks bright for the choir of Mission Bay High. The student director of the Show Choir this year was Heidi Wilson. The student music director this year was John Bodinger. Assistant directors were Mindi Alford and Chris Myers.

Robert Browne and Lynn Feingold go to a performance in style.

20's: Kelly Giske, Mike Labar, Cheryl Nimitz, Heidi Wilson, Michele Mosler, Lisa Popovich, Symantha Kennedy, Alice King, Sharon Matthews, Julie Kropp, Kelli Lease, Elaine Podney, David Martocchio, Sonja Hatch.

50's & 60's: Tamara Vanfest, Cathy Ahern, Sue Wood, Donna Wolfe, Desiree Winder, Kim Giesser, Reynaldo Vinole, Denna Horacek, Jamie Harper, Karen Nelson, George Rangel, Debbie Morrison, Kenneth Farrow, Eva Breese, Deanne Randzaao.

The New Addition! Swing Choir

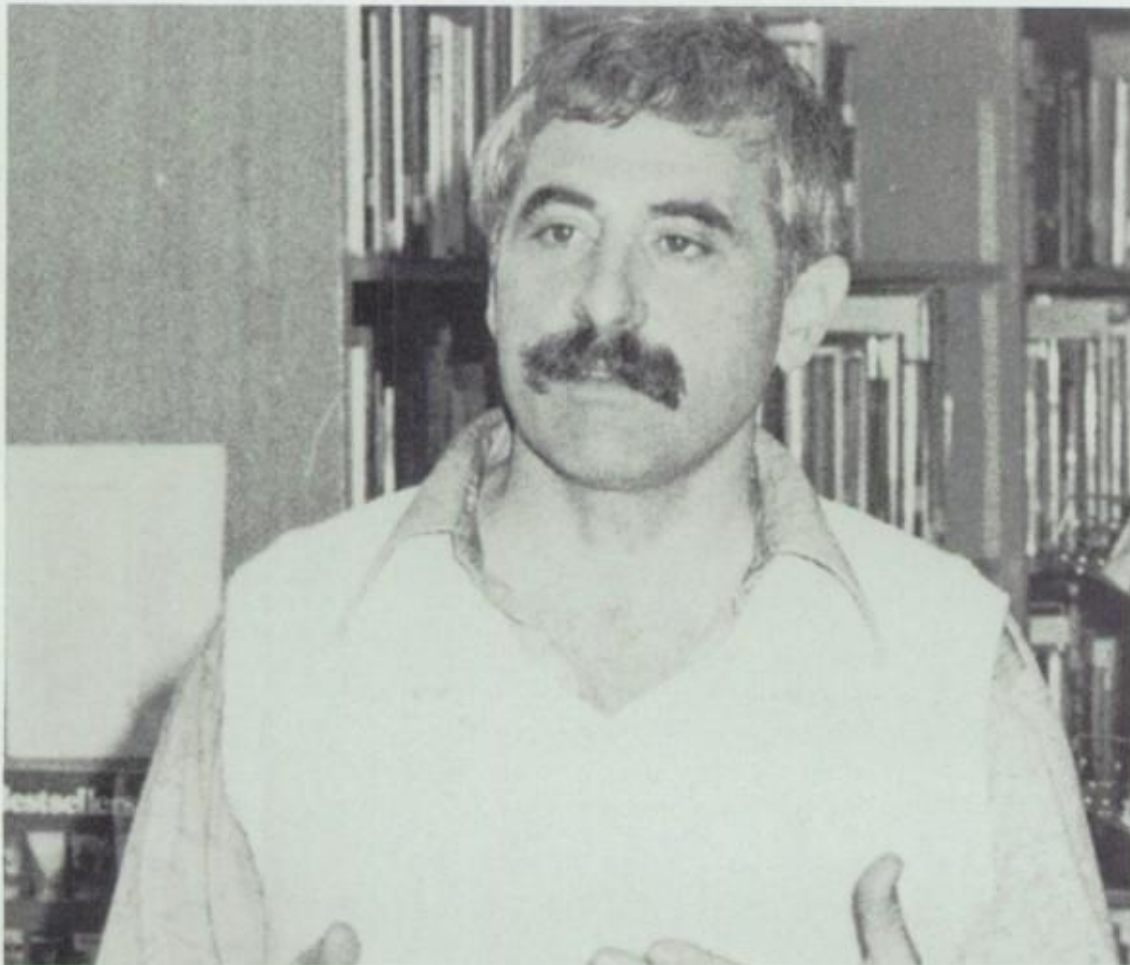

What's new and sounds great? You guessed it! It's the Mission Bay Swing Choir. The Swing Choir got off to a slow start but became so good that it was sought after to perform on and off campus. The Swing Choir sang at many public events including the Miss P.B. Contest. They also helped the Jazz Ensemble and Show Choir put out an album. The student directors of the Swing Choir were John Bodinger and Chris Myers. Though the Swing Choir was a great sounding ensemble there were many outstanding soloists such as Heidi Wilson, Symantha Kennedy, Margaret Strohlein, Alice King, and Chris Myers. Director Rey Vinole stated that the Swing Choir would only get better. He also envisioned the Swing Choir rivaling the Jazz Ensemble in years to come.

1981-1982 Swing Choir: Heidi Wilson, Margaret Strohlein, Amber Dikel, Symantha Kennedy, Mindy Alford, Alice King, Dawn Lombardo, Denise Hubbard, Deanna Hubbard, Cathy Ahern, Rey Vinole, John Bodinger, Tom Kelly, Bud Gragg, Arthur Fischer, Robert Howes, Reynaldo Vinole, Chris Myers, and Steve Elliott.

Student Directors: John Bodinger and Chris Myers.

Book "Em"

Umberto Tosi is a "ghost" writer. He has authored several books including High Treason with Vladimir Sakharov and Sports Psyching with Dr. Thomas Tutko. He landed these jobs after first meeting the people while interviewing them for newspaper and magazine articles he writes. He really considers himself a journalist as he started out as a copy boy with the Los Angeles Times and worked himself up to the Russian (or Foreign News) desk. He currently is the editor of "Air California" magazine and writes a computer column for the same magazine. He is also working on another book.

Greg Baer is a local writer. He was born and raised in San Diego and attended Crawford High School. He sold his first story to a Science Fiction Magazine when he was 15 and has been writing since he was 8. His four published books are: Hegira, Psychone, Beyond Heaven's River and Strength of Stones. An article in the February 1982 issue of "Omni" magazine and another book are his current projects. Mr. Baer lives in Spring Valley and is a guest lecturer in the San Diego City Schools gifted program.

Guest author Umberto Tosi talks to M.B. students about his many books.

Greg Baer tells of the many ups and downs in an author's life.

Ladies and gentlemen! Your attention please! It's my pleasure to introduce to you, THE MISSION BAY HIGH SCHOOL SHOW BAND!

The Show Band is the group that provides the fantastic harmonious sound for the Show Choir musicals, and other miscellaneous events. In class, they practice a wide variety of music: pop, rock, swing, jazz, etc. The class taught the students how to improvise using jazz chords. With this knowledge, they went out to raise money by playing promotions for big companies.

Since this was only the second year of this class, they are for the most part, unknown. But in a few years they will become one of the most prominent groups on campus.

The Mission Bay Band tensely awaits their next number.

It's Showtime!

The Dixie band provides a solid background for exciting games.

The Super-Enthusiastic John Bodinger concentrates on the number at hand.

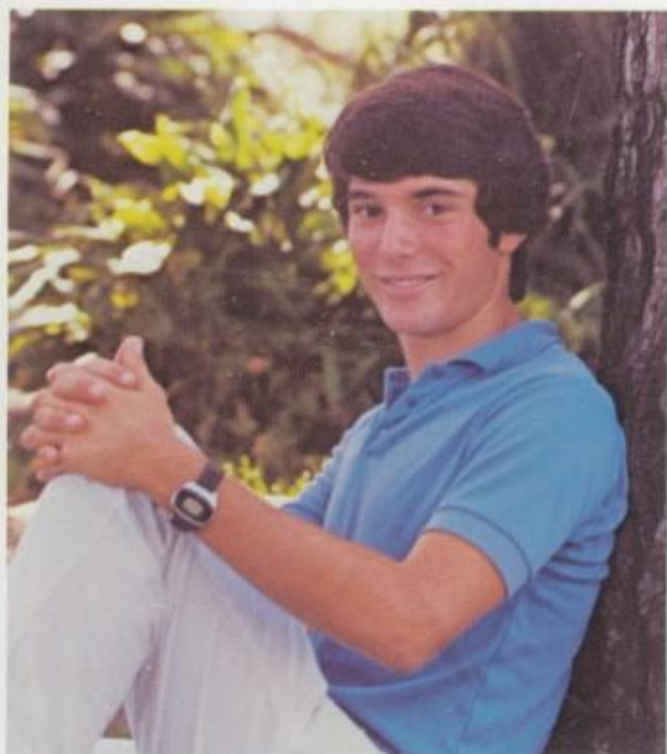

The MBHS Dixie band boogies.

Every year it seems like there is a different music group playing at the sporting events and pep rallies. Last year it was the SHOW BAND, but now it's the MISSION BAY HIGH SCHOOL DIXIE BAND!

The MBHS Dixie Band does just what it sounds like it should do. They play uplifting, invigorating music so that people can really get fired up. I'm sure you have heard them play songs like "When the Saints Come Marching In," and the ever popular "Sweet Georgia Brown," as well as the Alma Mater.

Being the first year in existence it was very small, but in time it will grow in size and popularity just like the Pep Band did. WATCH OUT, 'CAUSE HERE THEY COME!

Do you remember all the pep rallies? All the elections? All the great signs around school? These were just a few of the results of the work of the Associated Student Body. The many new people on the council contributed their fresh ideas to the Tuesday morning meetings. Members of the ASB also broke barriers by making friends with the trainable mentally retarded students, new to our school in '81-'82, and by making them feel welcome at Mission Bay. Throughout the year, the officers and commissioners of the ASB kept busy planning activities, fundraisers, and motivating school spirit.

According to Damon Mosler, ASB President, Mission Bay is the most spirited school in the San Diego City School System.

"Dare to influence." That is the 1981 international theme of Key Club. It means recognizing the value or potential in a person and caring enough to help them realize it.

Key Club is a well-rounded club, involved in serving the community and having fun doing it. Our Mission Bay Key Club, in the past three years, experienced a rapid growth from three members to approach fifty.

Each year the club organizes many service projects varying from the rewarding experience of helping out at the Special Olympics to weeding a strip of land for an old man. Members of Key Club participated in the KPBS auction, donated time to tutoring the Trainable Mentally Retarded, and went caroling at retirement homes. Also, the Key Club and its senior affiliates, the Kiwanians, cooperated in such projects as the annual apple drive and spaghetti dinner. All of these projects were enjoyable experiences in learning to work with others and to serve the community.

But Key Club is not just a local organization. There are many clubs around the country, in Nevada and Hawaii, and even internationally, in places like Guam and, more recently, Europe. In San Diego alone there are at least ten clubs, and all of these clubs, national and international, are in constant touch. A monthly magazine, The Keynoter, is circulated describing the activities of other clubs and there are annual conventions on a national and international scale. Locally, the clubs participate in inter-clubs. This means that two or more clubs meet to hear a speaker, attend an officer's training conference, or just party. The primary purpose of these meetings is to get to know each other and exchange ideas.

So, Key Club is a club aimed at serving the community in a united effort and growing through this effort. It is people helping people and having fun doing it.

AFS ... THE KEY

During the 1981-82 school year, Mission Bay was proud to welcome Susanne Hansen and George Honegger to our school. Susanne came from Denmark, and George from Switzerland.

AFS means "American Field Service." Students come from other countries to San Diego through this program. They come to the United States to learn our language and experience our social lives, and in return, they share many things about their country and society to us.

AFS had many fun activities throughout the year. Among them was an AFS Bike-A-Thon in which all foreign exchange students from the schools in the county participated. The biggest activity of the year was the AFS Weekend. On that weekend, they had a beach party, went to Scripps Aquarium, and they also swung their partners at a square dance.

AFS Exchange Students

These were Mission Bay's foreign exchange students for 1981-82. Susanne is from Lundtoste, Denmark which is near Copenhagen. George Honnegger is from Schaffhausen, Switzerland which is in central Europe. Both of them were very proud to be here this year.

MB fans enthusiastically crowd the stands at a Mission Bay-La Jolla game.

Spirit was especially high at Mission Bay in '81-'82. Black and Gold could be seen everywhere. Pep rallies and class competitions held on the weedpatch raised enthusiasm for the upcoming games.

There were Spirit cakes, Spirit chains, and the Buc Boosters, a new spirit rousing club, to provide the school with an exciting atmosphere. And the cheerleaders were always busy making colorful banners and signs to decorate the halls, lockers and playing fields. All of this, along with exciting teams, helped raise the attendance and spirit at MB games and activities.

CSF, California Scholastic Federation, a statewide honorary society, was designed to recognize students who achieved high grade-point averages. Membership eligibility was determined by semester grades. An A was worth three points and a B worth one point. To be members, students earned a minimum of ten points per semester. Seven of these points had to come from solid subjects such as math, English, and chemistry.

Mission Bay's CSF broke barriers with Point Loma's CSF by sponsoring and participating in a variety of inter-club activities.

As usual, the fall rally was well attended by Buc fans. After the captains of the fall teams introduced the team members, the varsity cheerleaders entertained the crowd with a dance. The highlight of the rally was a skit performed by the football players. In a take-off of the movie "An American Werewolf in London," two La Jolla football players (Steve Caccam and Willy Browning) were stalked by MB football players and, following the plot of the movie, torn to shreds.

A haunting mummy stalks the weedpatch during the annual Halloween costume contest.

Although Halloween remained an entertaining event, participation seemed to be at a low compared to previous years. The major reason for this was because a dress-up day was hardly mentioned in the daily bulletin. And for the first time in years, there was no Halloween dance at MB. Instead, Homecoming (can you believe it?) was scheduled on Halloween day.

So to celebrate Halloween, the annual costume contest was held on the weed-patch. The winners were Steve Brown and Brett Hartman, alias Elwood and Jake Blues — the Blues Brothers. They danced to Blues Brothers' music and performed acrobatic hijinx to the delight of the crowd.

Other entries included: Miss Piggy, one or two musket yielding buccaneers, a Tarzan and Jane duo, a mummy, a clown, an outgoing hunchback, and other assorted creatures beyond description.

All in all, the quality of the costumes made up for the low turnout and helped make Halloween 1981 an unforgettable experience.

MB choir fans poured into the auditorium expecting to see a great Winter Concert and what they saw and heard did not disappoint them. The Jazz Ensemble started the evening off playing "Midnight in Tunisa." Reynaldo Vinole, John Bodinger and Eric Talner played the song "Mirage" by Jean Louc-Ponty. The first half of the evening was highlighted by Kim Giesser's vocal solo of "The Rose." The second half of the show was strictly choir. After a stirring performance of "The Star Spangled Banner," the choir sang selections from "The Muppet Movie" and "A Chorus Line." The Swing Choir brought smiles to the older audience with their presentation of "The Golden Age of RocknRoll," a spoof on early rocknroll songs. Denise and Deanna Hubbard and Amber Dikel added to the spirit of the evening with their rendition of "Jingle Bell Rock."

The cheerleaders opened the activities of the Winter Rally by performing routines imitating the wrestlers and the basketball players. The winter sports teams of basketball, wrestling, soccer, fieldhockey, and softball were introduced. Representatives from each sport participated in a balloon passing relay in which the players lined up and then passed a balloon down the row of their team members with their feet. It wasn't surprising that the soccer team emerged triumphant in this event.

The highlight of the Winter Rally was a spoof of the Dating Game. The show host, Mike Miller introduced the participants Willy Browning, posing as Lenny, our security guard, John Bianchi as Coach Surdy, and Vitorio Robertti as Mr. Lorzana. Lenny was the lucky contestant who won the favor of Ms. Mally (Marie Collins), entitling him to a date with her on a fun-filled trolley ride to beautiful Tijuana.

The Valentine's Dance, sponsored by the PTSA, was quite a success! Mission Bay was rocked by the music of the Flexies, who played a variety of tunes from the 60's, 70's and 80's. The dance proved to be one of the more attended of the year, drawing in an excess of 200 people and insuring the prospect of future dances. The climax of the evening was the crowning of Marty Lupian as the King of Hearts. The other contestants were Mike Miller, Dale Needham and Mitch Musson. Chris Larralde was voted Prince of Love and the Duke of Romance was Jordan Kitaen.

Fall Sports

The coming of fall brought about another season of sports. It was now time to bring the old uniforms, the equipment, and the out-of-shape players out of the closet. Weeks of vigorous training and careful coaching were planned before the season actually started. Students sacrificed the last few weeks of their summer vacation in order to have a good team. The weeks of hard work, however, paid off this year for Mission Bay's football team.

The Buc's had a different coach this year, making a difference in the team's playing. Coach Pugh has had previous experience in coaching football, but this was his first year as head coach. Cris Ivey, an outside linebacker for Mission Bay, felt that Coach Pugh was a good motivator. "He got the team ready for the games. He knew when to get us moving and he knew when to joke around. I think he was a good coach because he knew the players and he could relate to us. He played the team rather than the individual."

The football team also faced another change in the season . . . the new league. Mission Bay played two different teams this year due to the league change. "I think the new league evened the odds out better. It gave us a chance to play teams of our own strength," stated Mike Miller, offensive/defensive lineman. The new league proved to be a help instead of a hinder, resulting in one of MB's best season in a matter of years.

Garrisons of the Gridiron

Halftime at Mission Bay shows its spirit strong.

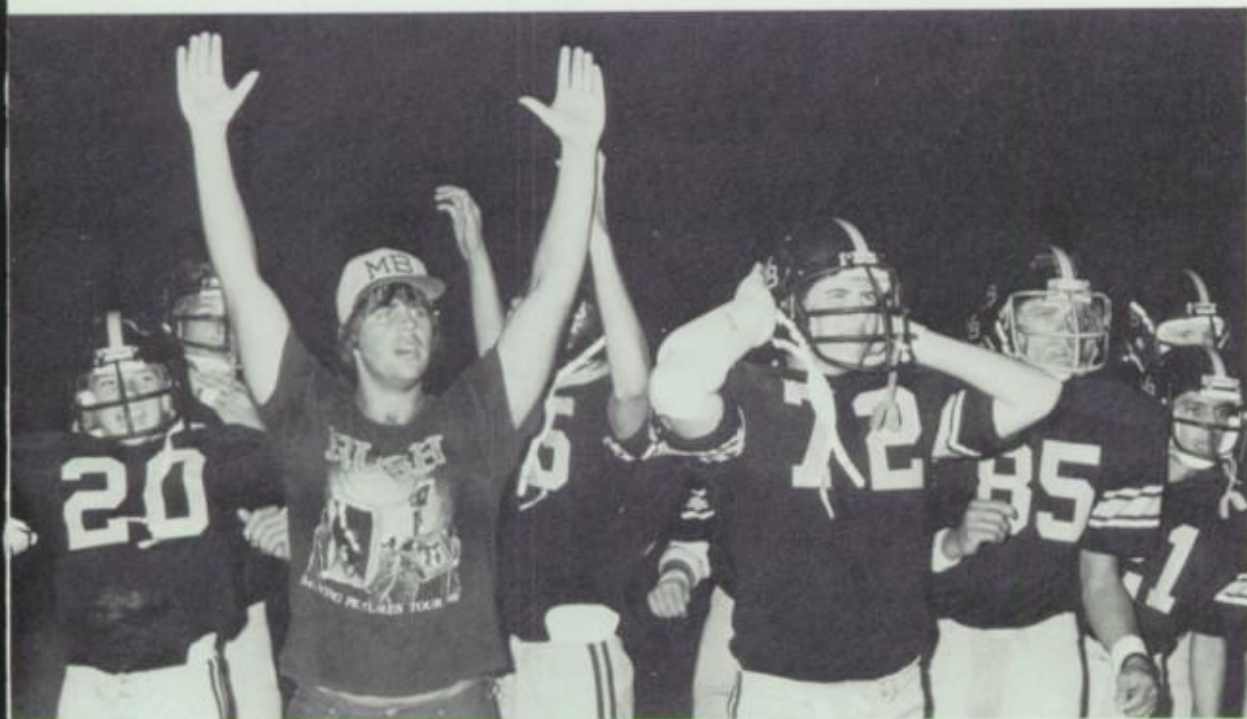

With a 2-3 record, Mission Bay had a good start during the first half of the season. The Bucs got on the winning track by defeating Dana Hills in the opening game of the season. Quarterback Robbie Burden and wide receiver Marty Lupian made a good team, giving MB two touchdowns through their combined efforts. Defensive back Roger Anderson made two interceptions, which aided the Bucs with their well-earned win.

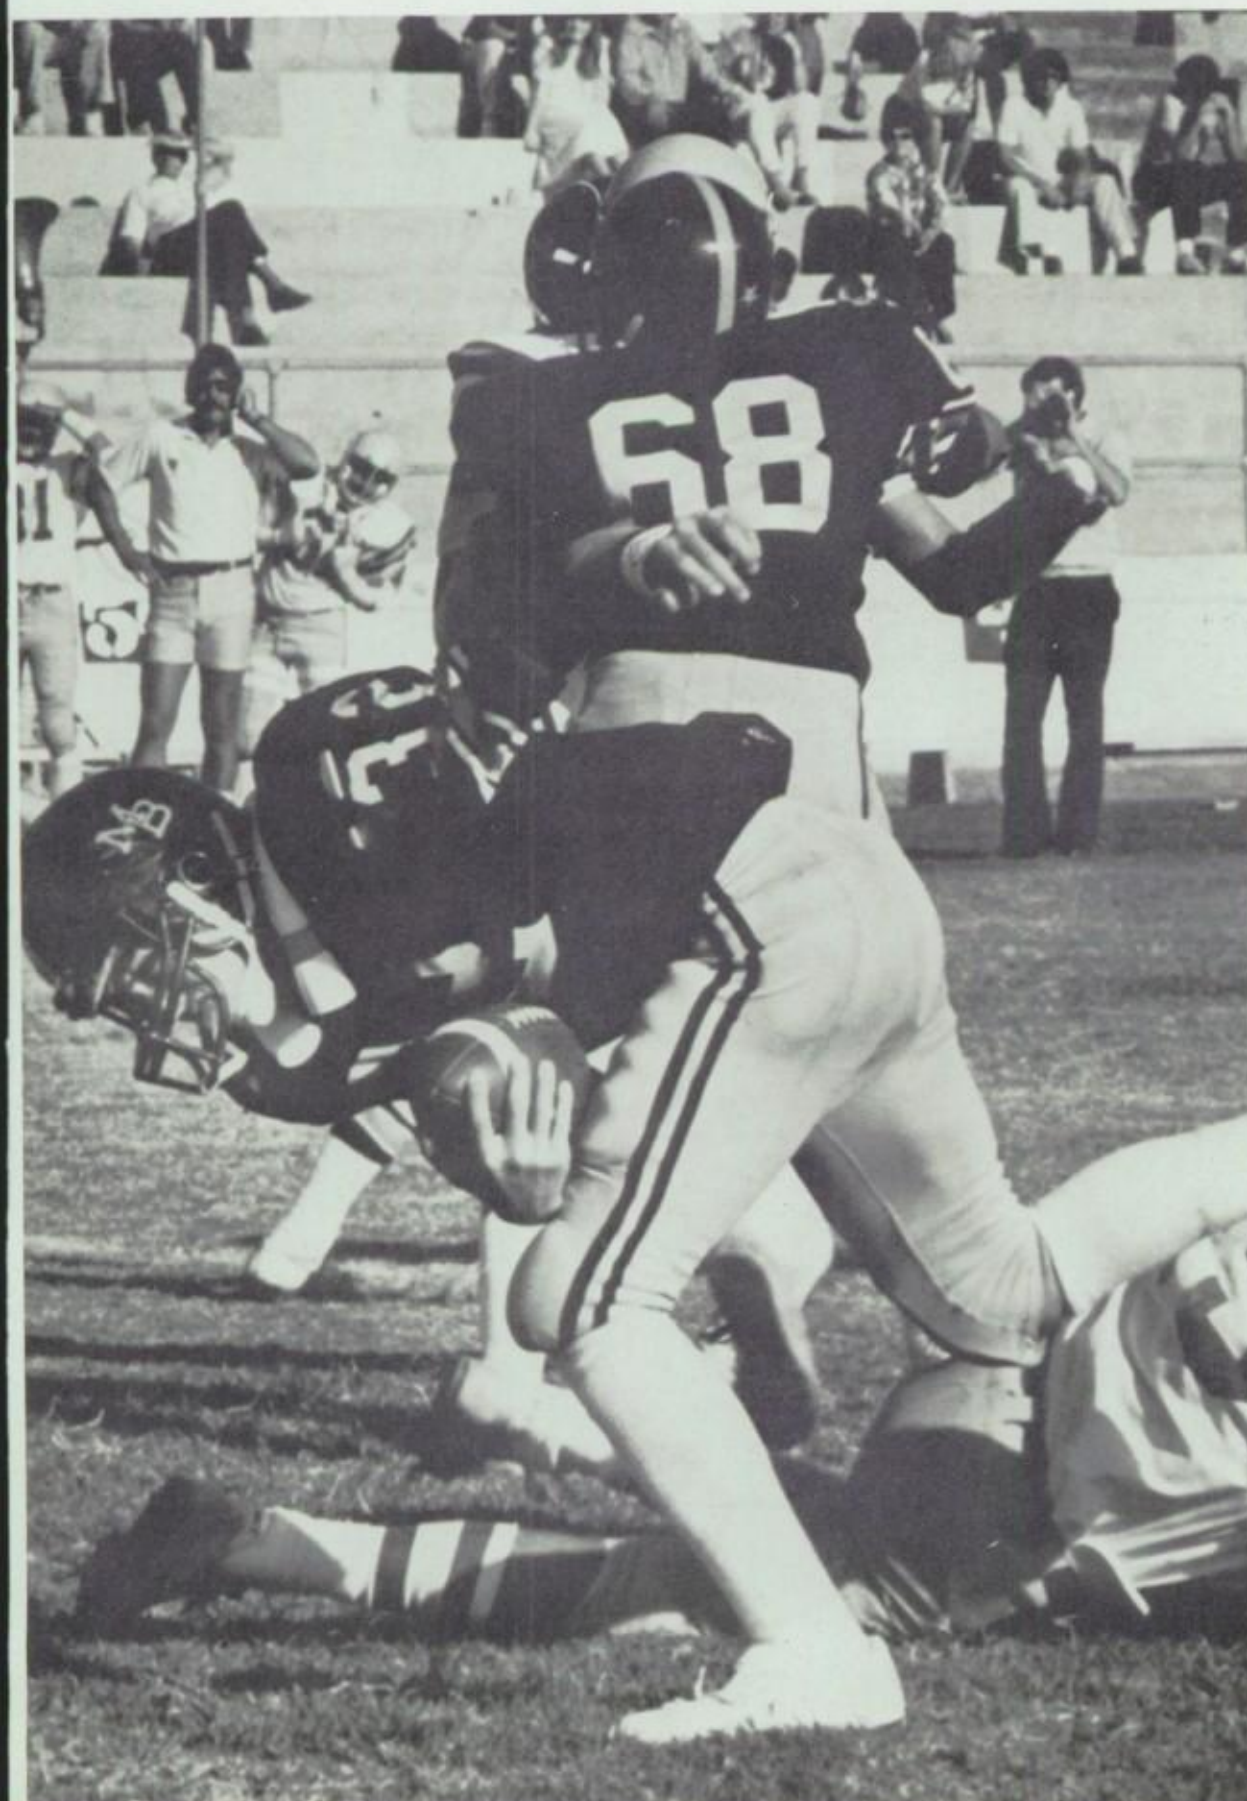

Mission Bay made a fabulous comeback in their game against St. Augustine. The first half was filled with many penalties and a weak defensive line. In the last three minutes of the game MB completed three passes, resulting in their second touchdown. During the last play, John Bianchi intercepted the Saints' pass, assuring MB of a win.

Fall Sports

Even though Mission Bay didn't place very high in the conference, they still proved to be a winning team. The Bucs won two of their last four games of the season, giving them an overall 4-5 record. Hoover was the third team to be decimated by the Bucs. The opening kick-off was returned 85 yards by Kenny Steward, giving MB a touchdown and a great start in their victorious game.

The season went out with the same bang that it came in with for the Buccaneers. University was defeated 3-2 in the final game of the year. Mission Bay continued with the same good plays and completed passes that helped them earn their first win against Dana Hills.

With the aid of John Bianchi, Richard DeLaCruz, Jerry Thomas, Marty Lupian and Roger Anderson, Mission Bay was a name that gained much more respect this year.

"It's freezing!" or "The water's sooooo cold!" were just some of the comments you heard as the swim team swam laps before their meet with Madison.

"All right girls, everybody out of the pool!" Coach Wild called to her high spirited swim team. It was time for the pep talk that precedes every meet. Following that came cheers from both sides; Mission Bay proved to be the better.

Six girls took their marks, three from M.B. and three from Madison. "BANG!" went the starter gun. "SPLASH!" went the girls into the pool. The swim meet had officially begun.

This year's swim team had a lot of school spirit, excellent swimmers, but was slightly lacking in number.

After the meet, Coach Wild said that some of Varsity's outstanding members were Peggy Morioka, Lisa Bye, Carol Wear, Jenny Kangers and Tod Kellogg, all of whom were letterwomen. They also represented Mission Bay in the C.I.F. finals.

A late but welcomed surprise to the V. team was when Allison Williams joined. She swam for the team last year and was very good.

The J.V. team also had some excellent members. The most promising of them all was Meagan Read. Susan Martin took her place at the top of the list.

Suddenly there was a loud bellow "THERE'S NOTHING WORSE THAN WET SWEATS!" It came, of course, from Allison's lovely mouth.

Breaking Into

This year's Volleyball teams proved to be competitive, enthusiastic groups of girls.

"The J.V. team showed a lot of improvement, but this year was a building year for next year's team," said Coach Lawlor. Some outstanding J.V. players were Tonya Grant, Julie Kropp, Claire Jardine and Jane Flanagan.

"The Varsity had a lot of excellent players but they didn't do quite as well as expected," commented Coach Stephanie Naff. "But they did do better than last year!" The most improved player on the team was Becky Wolfe, who started out this year on J.V.

Some of the most outstanding players were Chi Shan Wai, Dana Kuczon, Caron Janc and Lisanne DiMinno.

All of the girls really liked playing volleyball. When asked what she liked best about being on the team, Laura Attman replied, "Practicing with friends, working as a team and going out for pizza after the games . . . oh and winning's fun too."

The girls on the 1981-82 Tennis team seemed to have had a good time. In spite of the long, hard practices and tough matches, the pizza parties took away some of the tension.

In his second year of coaching, Coach Weiss was very proud of his girls for the fantastic effort and pride they put into each match. They came up 10 and 5 over all. Top players Barb Warmath and Stella Tom came in 4th in the City Western League.

Birds of Flight

Much enthusiasm, a competitive attitude, and a handful of excellent players were big factors contributing to the accomplishment of the 1981-82 Coed Badminton Team. Although they only won 5 out of 14 games, it was noted that they showed improvement over recent years with, as Coach Joan Malley described, "more depth and overall skill." Over half of the players earned varsity letters.

A great asset to this year's team was junior Kris Quinones. Voted most valuable player, Kris took first place in women's singles in both the Serra Invitational Tournament and the City Conference Individual Finals. Another exceptional player, Mike Bark, teamed up with Kris, and the two placed third in the City Finals for mixed doubles. Shannon Matteson was voted most improved, Damon Mosler was most enthusiastic and Bill Kennedy earned the title of the player with best sportsmanship.

As Mike Bark stated, "We all got along well together and had a lot of fun."

Take It To Court

The 1981-82 basketball season had to be considered a rebuilding year. With only three year varsity starter Brad Rodgers returning, Mission Bay had to learn what teamwork and pride were all about.

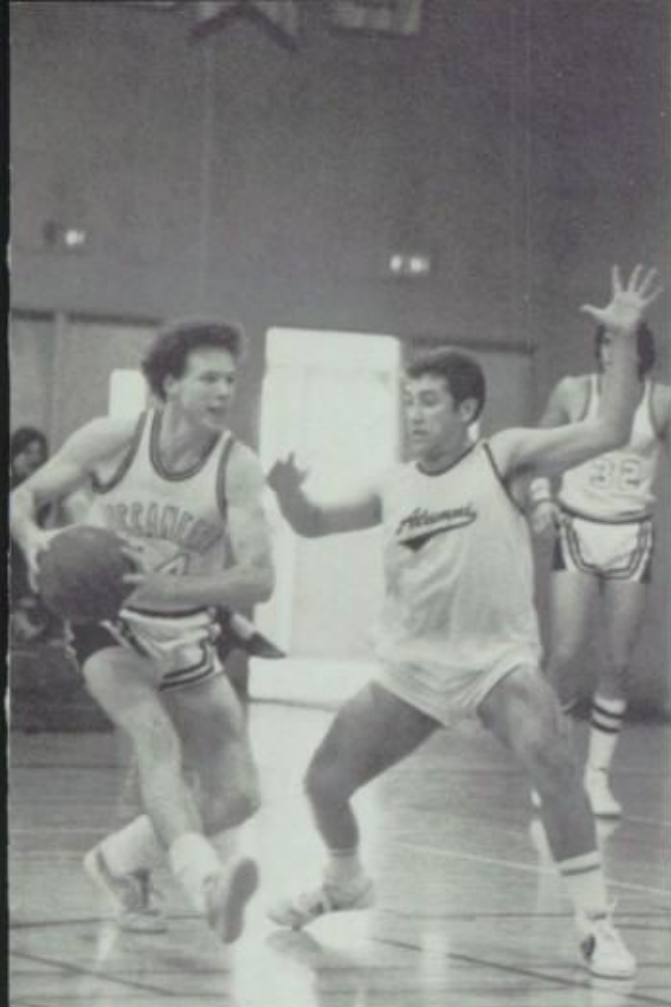

Through the first nine games the inexperienced Buccaneers played tough but could not find the way to win. Their 0-9 start was partly due to the fact that six of the nine teams they faced were rated in the county's top ten.

Then, on Jan 12, Crawford came to the Buc arena. This was the first home game of the year. Cheered on by a very enthusiastic crowd and the fine play of Phil Long, 16 pts., Brad Rodgers, 12 pts., and John Dillon, 9 pts., the varsity crushed the colts in a thrilling last second, 50-49, overtime victory!

Jan. 14, at home again for only the second time in ten games, the Buccaneers defeated the Dons of University High, 64-53. Confidence and poise characterized the outstanding performances of Rodgers, 14 pts., Long, 16 pts., and Dillon, 14 pts. Mike Franks and Gary Clapp scored nine and seven points respectively to help the Buc cause.

On Jan. 19 the two game winning streak ended as the upstart Buccaneers were outmanned and soundly defeated by the La Jolla Vikings, 65-40. Phil Long led the scoring with 14 points followed by Gary Clapp's 11 points.

Jan. 22 the Bucs traveled to University City High. The game was close throughout, but the varsity hung on to win by one point, 54-53. John Dillon had his greatest game, scoring 20 points and grabbing a season high, 14 rebounds, this was the team's third win in four games.

Jan. 26 Mission Bay played host to San Diego. The first half ended with the Bucs down five points. Gary Clapp had his best game as a varsity starter hauling down eight rebounds and scoring 21 points. Leading scorer, Brad Rodgers, added 16 pts. and three assists, but their efforts were not enough as the Caveman defeated the Bucs, 79-51.

The end of the first round of games showed Mission Bay's record as two wins and four losses.

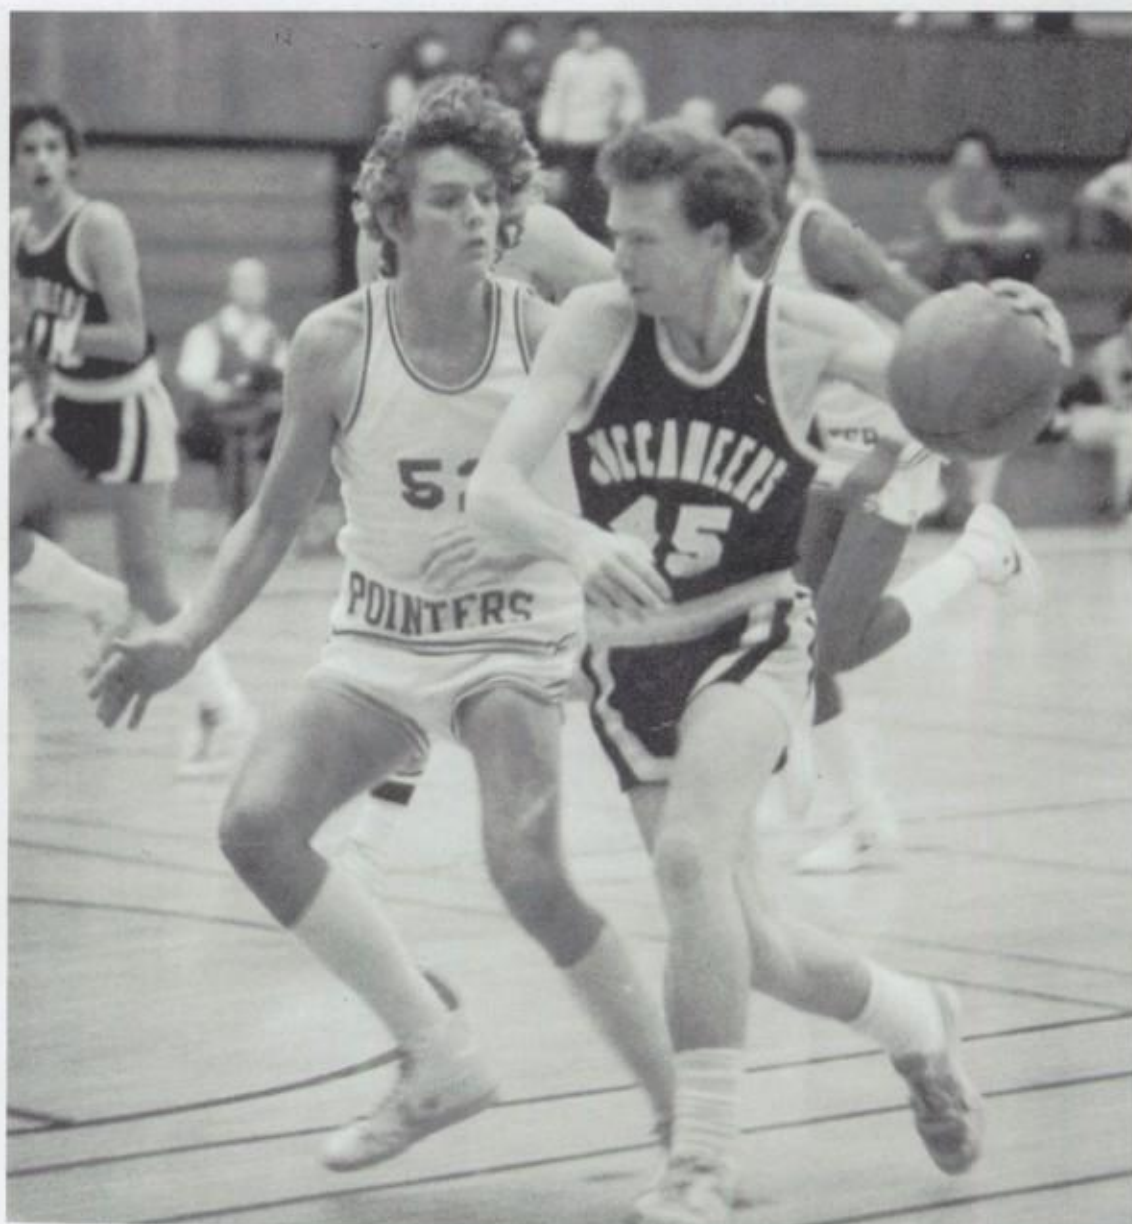

Jan. 29 Clairemont came to Mission Bay and the two teams engaged in an emotional, hard fought contest. This was the start of the second round of league play and the varsity wanted to avenge their earlier defeat. After regulation play, the score was tied, 55-55, on a last second shot by a Clairemont player. The game went into overtime, but the Buccaneers failed to snatch victory from the jaws of defeat. The score read, 59-55.

Brad Rodgers, playing the best game of his three year career hit 12 of 19 shots from the field and was a perfect four for four from the line, giving him a season high 28 pts. John Dillon played brilliantly, scoring 16 points while pulling down seven rebounds.

We all want to feel some emotion in our lives.

The greatest emotion in the world is winning.

The second greatest emotion in the world is losing.

The worst emotion in the world is not playing. Feeling nothing.

Win or lose, the varsity and junior varsity basketball teams have learned to deal with their emotions.

With spirit and zest for achievement they have given their best and played with their hearts.

What comes to your mind when you hear the word wrestling? Do you immediately think of mud (maybe even whipped cream)? Do you imagine hairy, barbaric beasts grappling with each other until death? Some people do think that this is the way of the wrestler. Not completely true. The Mission Bay Wrestling team took the sport more seriously. They took it so seriously that they went all the way to the top . . . Western League Champs.

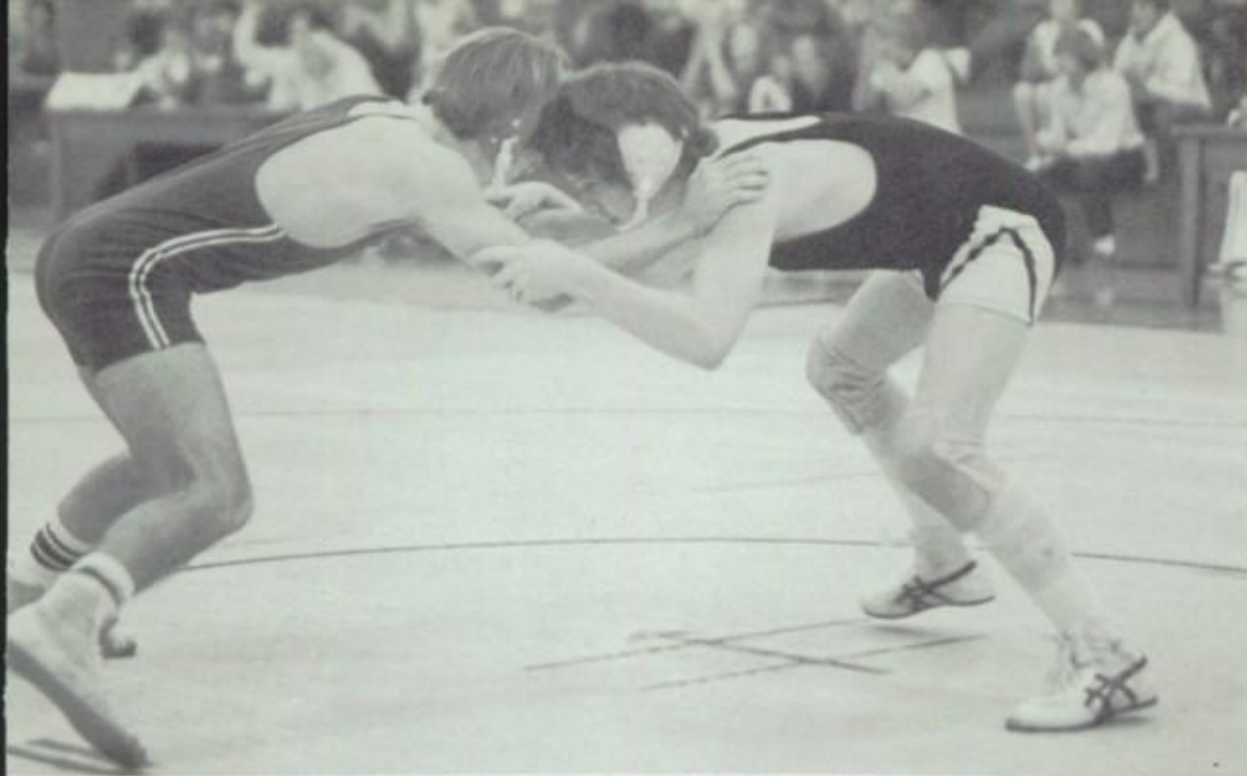

With the contributions of veterans John Bianchi, Jeff Wilson, Lennie Houston, and newcomers Steve Autenreith and Darryl Silva, the Bucs finished the season 8-1 and shared the Western League title with Clairemont. Good job, boys!

This season the Mission Bay Soccer team has shown much potential. Coach Cochrane stated, "I have a new start with an inexperienced team, but I'm pleased with their progress." Sophomores dominate the team, but all show their valuable ability. Coach Glen Torrance said, "This team is a young and a most promising team, they never gave up." Win or lose these Soccer players have had an outstanding good attitude toward their games. When Shawn Bingham was asked what he thought about this season's team, he answered, "We're a young team that's building up, we have the skills to be winners, and we won't quit till we reach the top!"

Genuine Diamonds

Both the Varsity and Junior Varsity Softball teams had excellent seasons this year. Headed by Coach Milton, the Varsity team acquired their success with "improved pitching, a good sound infield and outfield, and the concentrated effort of each team member." Their hard work was rewarded with an outstanding 12-1 record and a trip to the CIF playoffs. Once there, they made it through the first round of the playoffs by beating Christian with a 12-1 score. Deeper into the series, they were finally overtaken by University, losing 6-1. "We worked hard to earn our reputation as an awesome team," said Deborah Jones.

Coach Cann's Junior Varsity team also finished at the top of the league. This made both Varsity and Junior Varsity teams Western League Champs.

Right Off the Bat

Mission Bay's baseball season began as most baseball seasons do, optimism prevailed. However, Coach Dennis Pugh remained hesitant to predict his team's final record. Coach Pugh pointed out that the Bucs are in the city's toughest league, the Western, and it would take much determination and a lot of fine baseball to take the title.

The Buc's strong suit was their powerful hitting led by Senior John Miller. Other standouts included Steve Mills, Rob Burden, and Sophomore pitcher Darren McElroy.

Coach Pugh also felt that MB would improve over the course of the season, with the added experience of playing with some of the city's better teams.

On The Ball

At press time, Mission Bay's baseball team had a 2-2 record, which was a fairly good start. The Bucs showed strong hitting and great effort in their first game, played against San Marcos. The Bucs were behind 0-3 after the second inning of the game, but they managed to bring it up to 4-3 by the fifth inning. The final score, 6-4, resulted in MB winning their first game of the season.

Home Safe

By mid season, the Mission Bay Baseball team seemed to be able to look into the future with confidence. Even though they were a young team, they still did well. With strong hitting and much endurance, the Bucs were able to keep up with the competition. Many errors were committed on the playing field, however, forcing Mission Bay to tighten up on their defense.

In doing so, they certainly brought a sense of teamwork and fair play to each game with them.

The team's potential was achieved earlier than expected and the season showed us great things.

CONDITION: SPRING

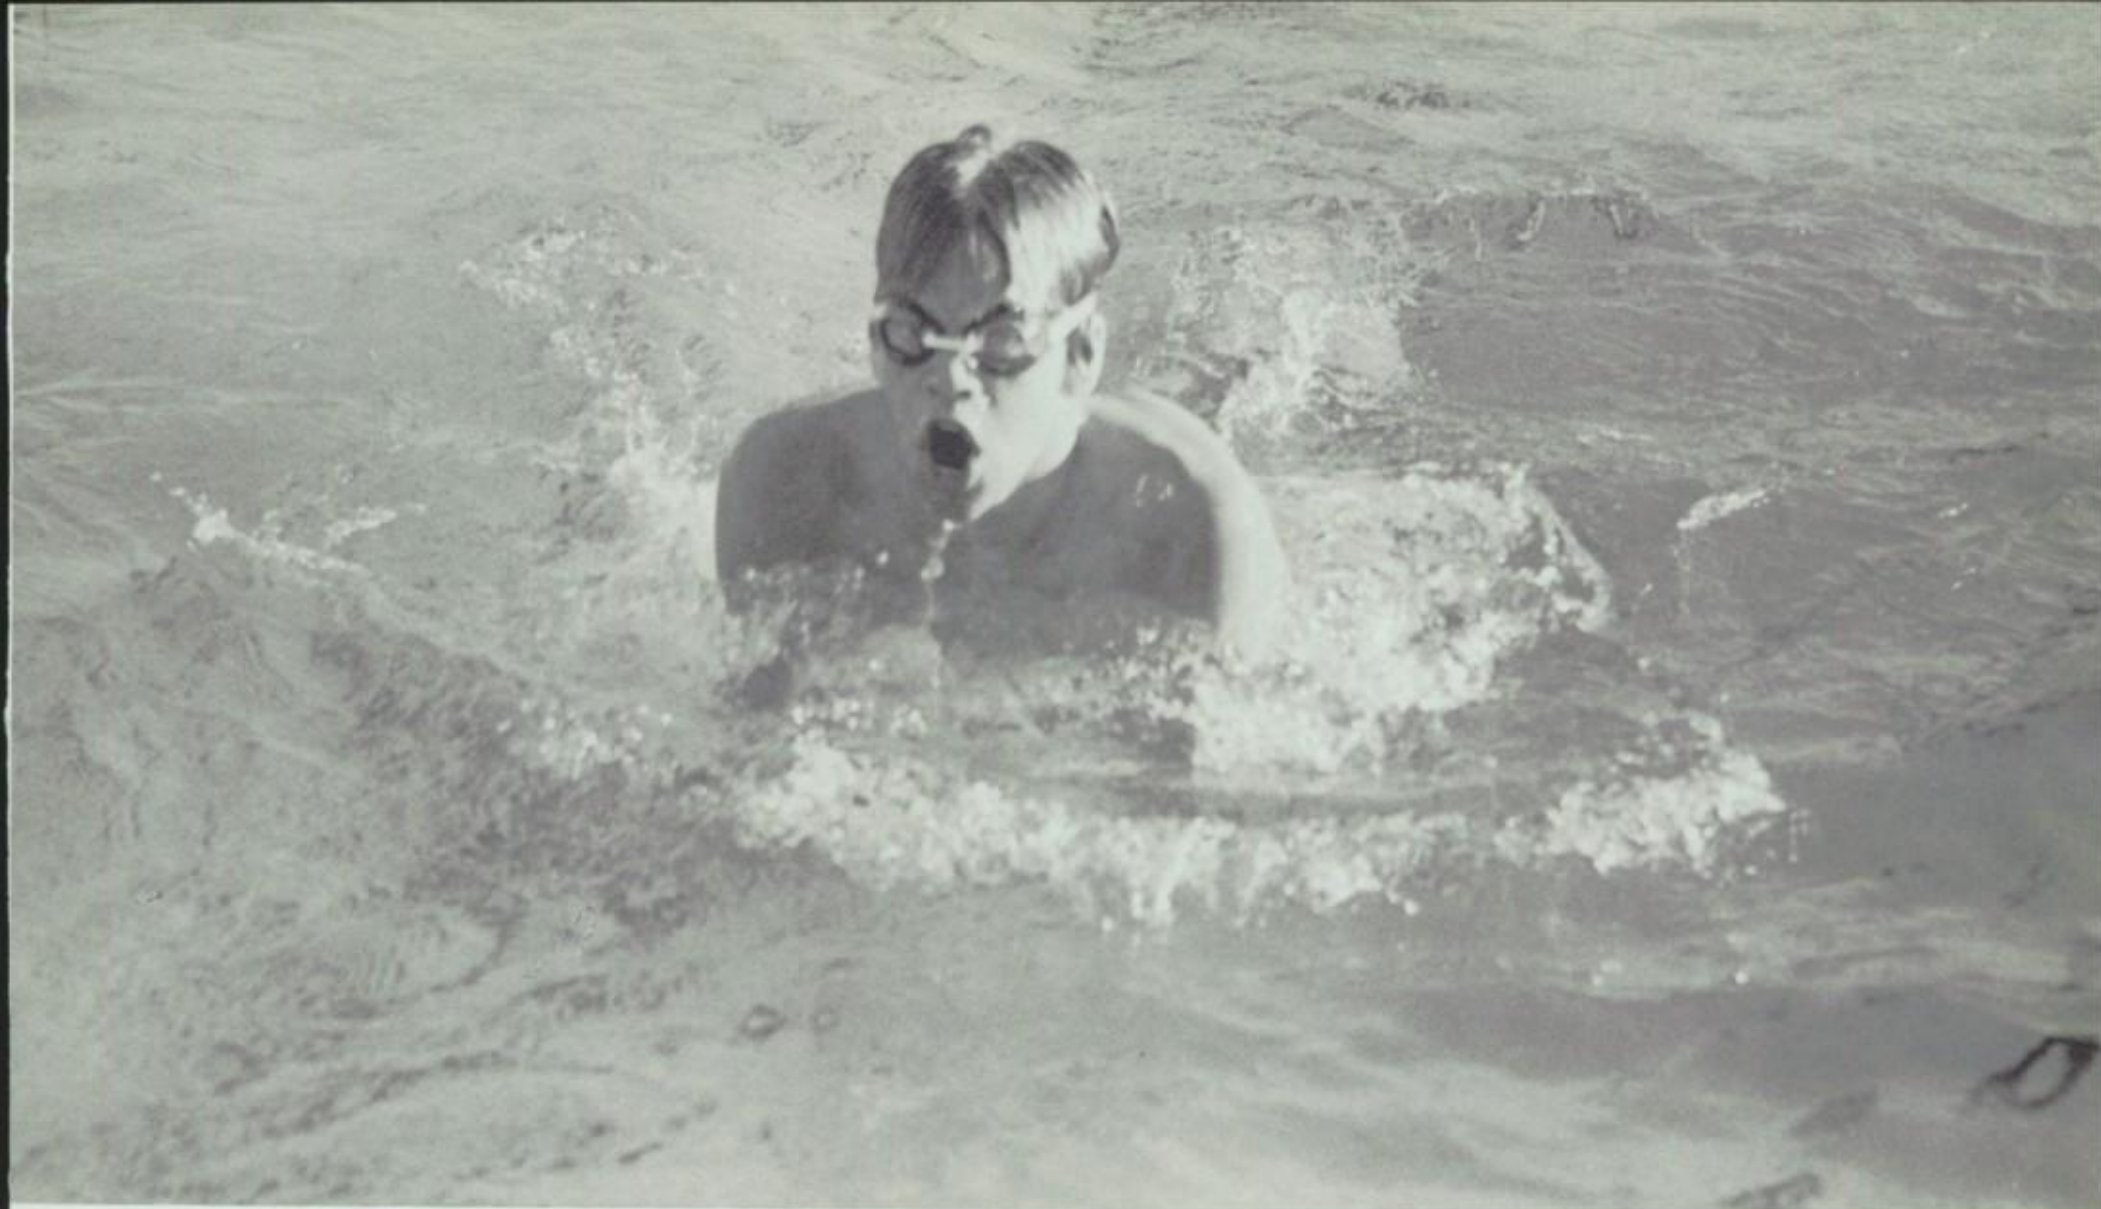

The 1982 boys' swim team, coached by Ron Cass and Mrs. Wild, started the season formidably. According to Coach Wild, boys' swimming drew the largest number of participants since she has been at MB. Early in the season Wild stated that she expected outstanding performances from: All American Chris Larralde in the breaststroke; Scott Spitz, who spent the last year swimming with the Coronado AA; Chappy Mico in breaststroke and freestyle; Willy Browning returning in the breaststroke and Jeff Dort in the 500.

Weight training was a new conditioning method incorporated by the coaches this year. The team worked out two afternoons a week on weights in addition to daily swimming workouts. Eye-opening 5:45 a.m. practices at Swanson Pool required much willpower and called for a lot of early morning freeway driving. The rigorous conditioning program of double workouts twice a week prepared the team well for their eleven scheduled meets, two invitational relay meets and the Iron Man Relay which they all looked forward to competing in.

Net Worth

The Mission Bay boys' tennis team has always competed at a level of excellence, and this year should be no exception. With hours and hours of grueling practices, the team is definitely in shape.

New on the tennis scene this year is Coach Weiss, replacing Coach Homiston as head coach. Weiss' team led by Kirk Fox, is looking forward to a winning season. Although early in the season when this interview was taken, the team had hopes of going CIF, but only time will tell.

Several players who returned this year to compete included seniors Kirk Fox, Jim Ault, Steve Caccam and Steve Elliott, ranking 1 through 4 respectively. Coach Weiss commented that the competition this year would be La Jolla and Point Loma.

Lemme See Your BODYWORK

After a year's absence from the scene, Mission Bay's Dance club, BODYWORKS, made a successful return, with a new name and fresh talent. The club consisted of approximately twenty-five girls, each of whom showed enthusiasm towards individual dance styles including, tap, jazz, ballet and modern dance.

The club got together twice a week for their workouts. They worked on routines from the music of J. Geils', "Freeze Frame," to the driving soul of Aretha Franklin.

Under the newly acquired guidance of Ms. Mary Lawlor, the dancers eagerly pursued their workouts, and worked toward the highlight of the year, a dance presentation for the school.

With ambitious talent and a new name, BODYWORKS proved to be one of the most successful and lively clubs at Mission Bay.

The results of a meet, victory or defeat, depended on the effort of not only the individual but also on the team. Striving for the finish line, pushing their bodies a little further and working for more distance, all became a little more easily when their teammates cheered them on. Carrie Thomas described what being on the track team was all about when she said, "It takes lots of hard work, dedication and you have to want it bad enough to make it the most important thing." The dedication of the team and the support and the enthusiasm of the spectators all contributed to the uniqueness and unity of the track team.

Field events such as the shot put and the discus are to be considered two of the more difficult events to compete in. Both events require great strength and stamina. Some of the better participants in these events were quoted as saying: "Having a good strong upper body is vital, especially the arms. Height is an important factor along with confidence and team spirit." Nick Mocerri. "You have got to be big and buff and have good form. Thinking positively, no matter what may happen, is very important in order to be the best there is." Greg Early. After successfully knocking down the pole in the pole vault, Eric Taramasco smiles for the world.

Kimi Tilton: I never would have been able to get through high school without cheerleading. All the other cheerleaders are indescribably awesome. I'm going to miss it for sure.

Dee Hein: Cheerleading has been a fun experience for me and this year we have a super football team.

Cathy Ahern: It's time consuming but it's worth it because you get to know a lot of people and have fun.

Janet Pernicano: It's great to represent the school in such a fun way. It's helped me make friends at the school.

Symantha Kennedy: The first game proved to be one of the most exciting. The crowd was spirited, the team played well, and we showed that we could all work together. I had a blast.

Kristy Schmook: Cheerleading has been a great experience for me. I've met a lot of people and I enjoy cheering up the crowd. I'm really going to miss it.

Cheerleader: The Word Says It All

Beth Cunningham: I enjoy getting the crowd into the game and our winning football team makes it easier for us to cheer.

The one activity that seems to be the most popular way to get involved in school is cheerleading. The biggest reason girls go out for cheerleading is to have fun and do the school a service at the same time.

Being a cheerleader involves long practices after school and much personal sacrifice. It means leading the crowd in cheers, making signs encouraging the students to support the Bucs, and coordinating pep rallies. It also means leading cheers when your team is losing.

The cheerleaders at Mission Bay are warm and friendly people. They are quite unlike the typical "dumb" cheerleader cliché. Most are enrolled in college preparatory courses and they generally do well in these classes.

In short, cheerleaders are energetic and are the catalyst to school spirit. They take an active role in school and they feel good about serving their school and community.

On May 18, 1981, five girls were chosen to be the 1981-1982 Junior Varsity Cheerleaders: junior Lynda Shaw and sophomores Maria Mabile, Jill Pernicano, April O'Brien, and Kimera Watson. After that moment the girls began to practice as much as they could, but most of it was done after they attended camp in August.

None of the five girls knew cheerleading was going to be so much fun and hard work. They found their main inspiration to be their advisor Mr. Beckett. Without his help and understanding, the squad would not have been a success.

Play

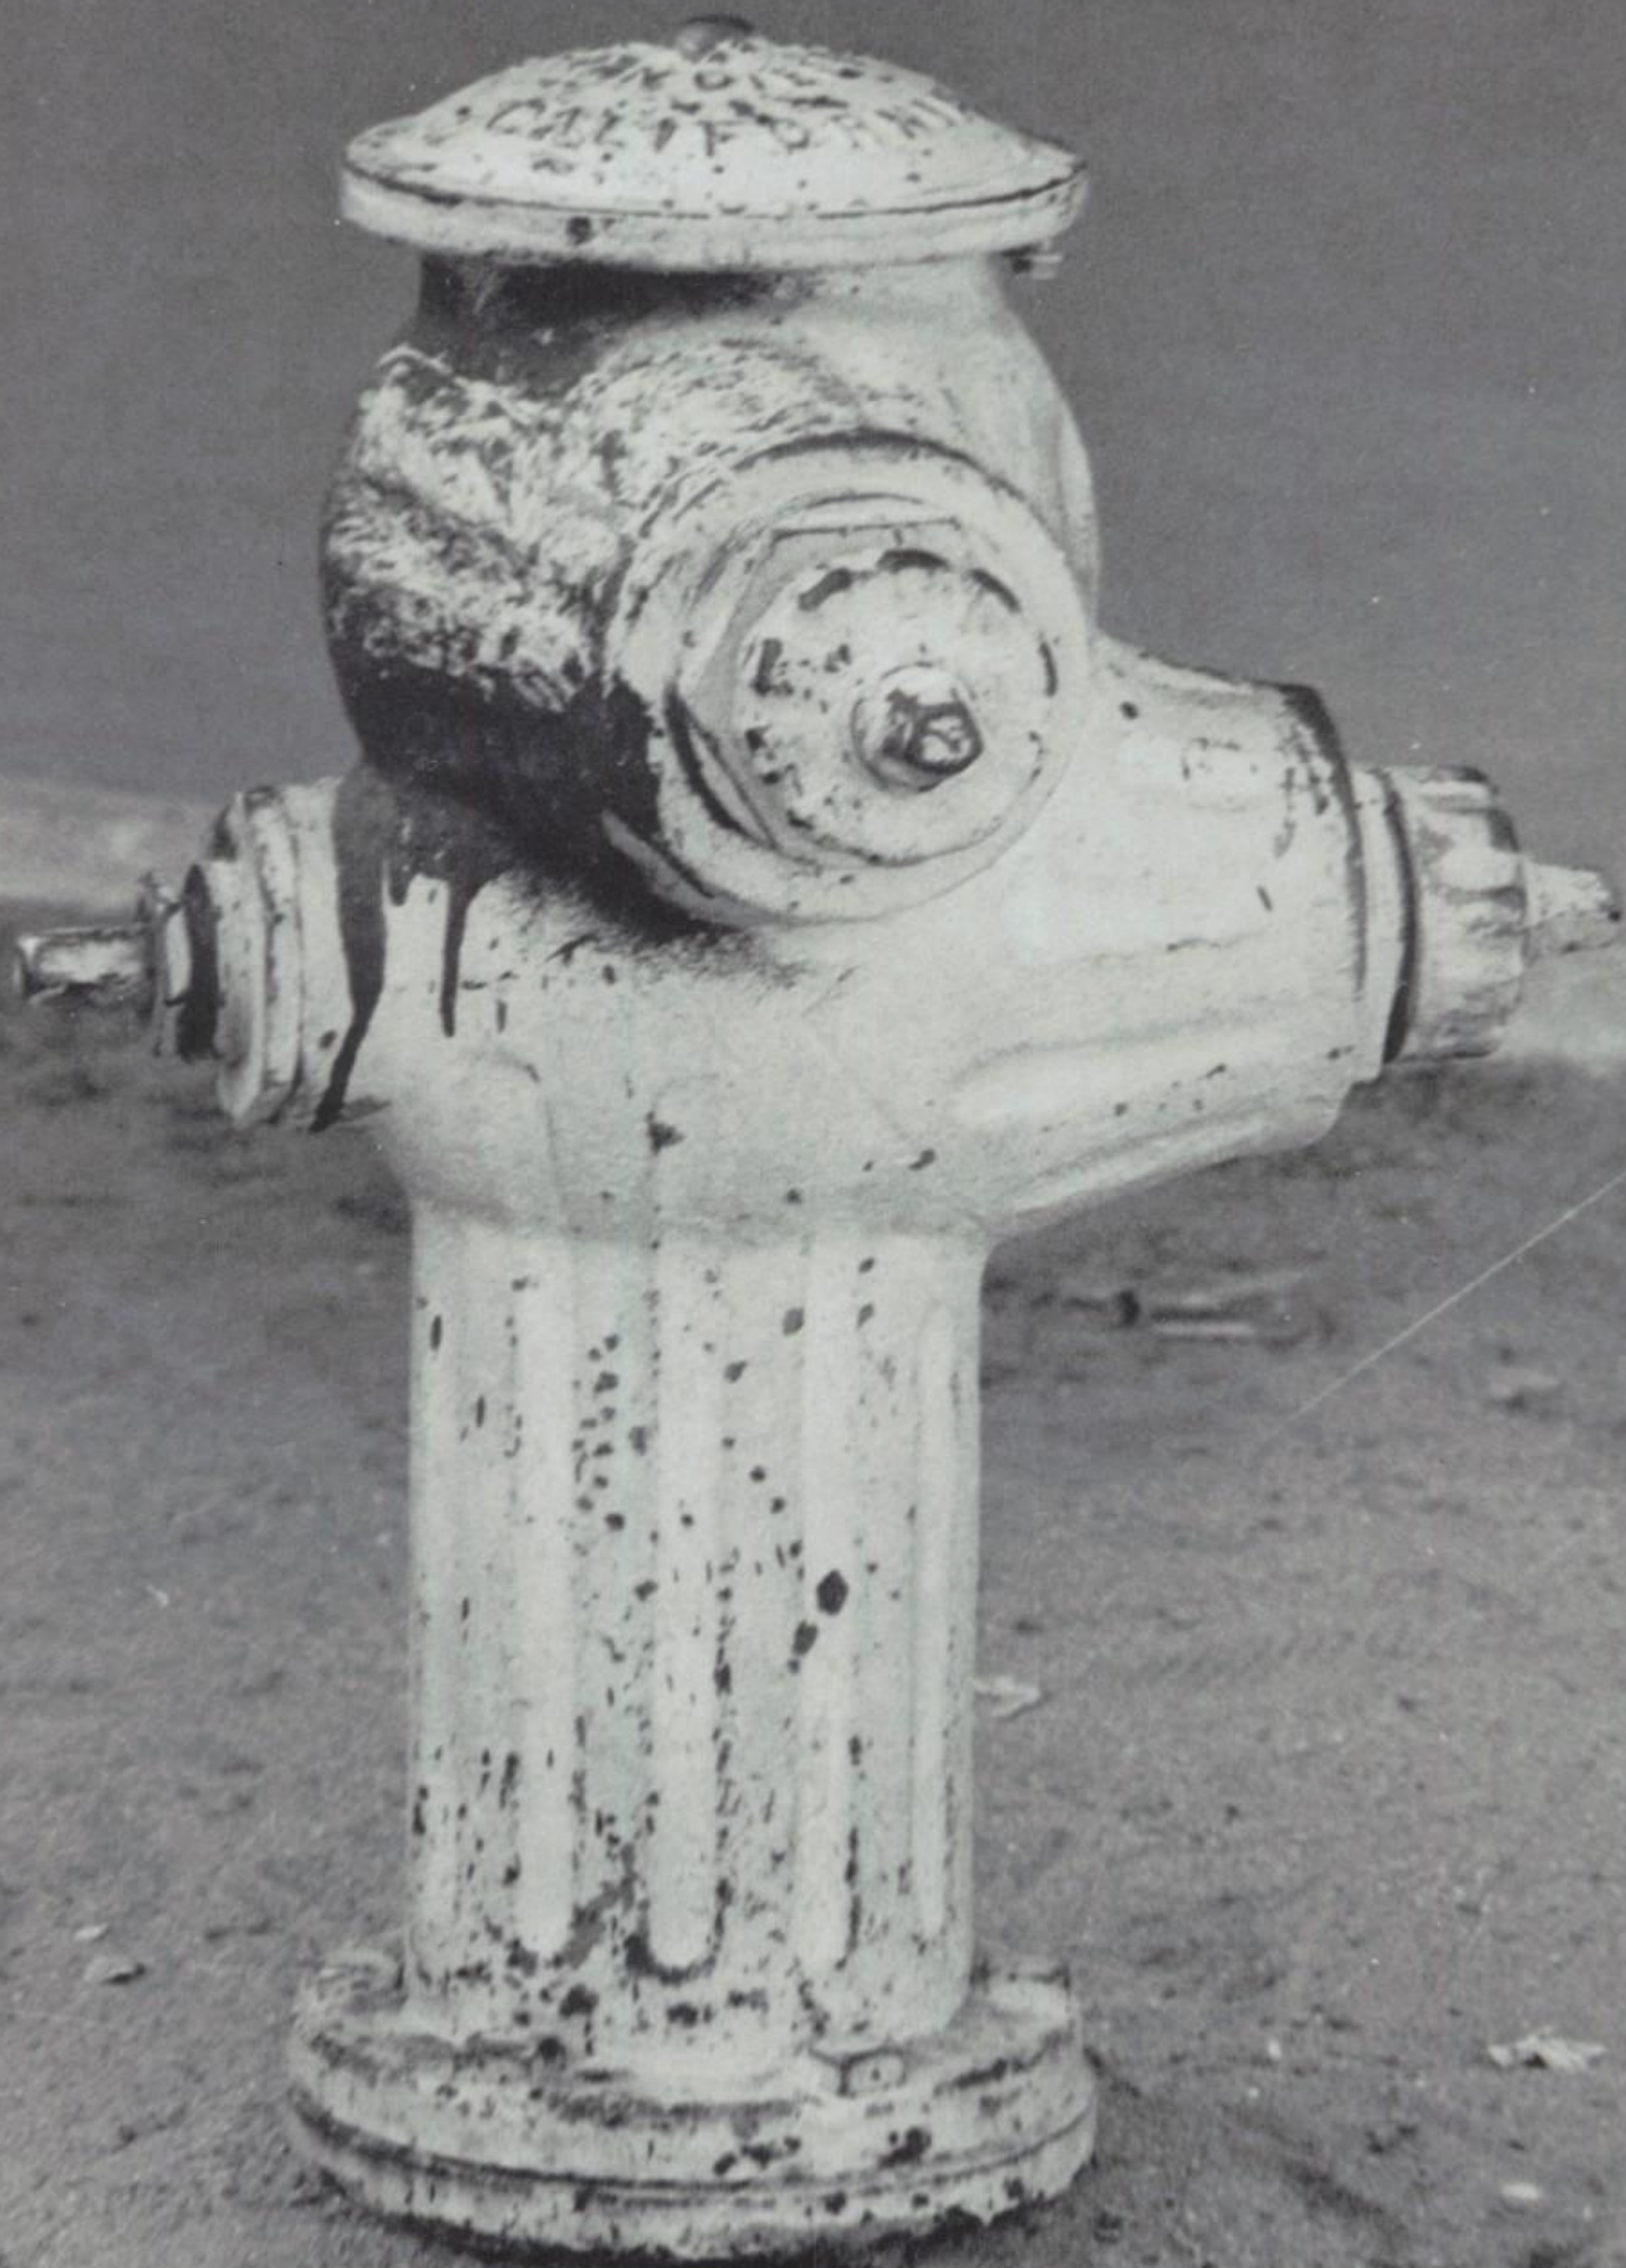

Even with all of the on campus sports offered to the students of Mission Bay, many students prefer to indulge in the variety of off campus sports that are available to us in this area. A majority of the students at MB have jobs or are busy with their studies and do not have the time that on campus sports require. To compensate for the long, tedious week days, many of the students find their enjoyment in sports such as biking, skating, swimming at the beach, surfing, and many other activities. Some get as daring and bazaar as hang gliding, parachuting, and race car driving. Rest assured that no matter what the activity, they undertook it with a colossal amount of MB pride.

Currents

The interplay of flowing forces and brought about the presently elapsing state of attitudes and perceptions. These are them.

Is this fire hydrant in front of the Girls' gym current or what?

This past year, the incredible glut of news we received told us of events that sometimes made world-wide destruction seem inevitable while less-often-reported items sent rays of hope traveling through our worried bloodstreams.

Certainly no one was made secure by the crack-down in Poland. In December of '81 the Polish government declared martial law, an action that inflamed the western world. By the spring of '82 however, Secretary of State Alexander Haig and the U.S. government were more concerned about Communist backed uprisings in Nicaragua and El Salvador. The American public, haunted by the memory of Viet Nam, became much less supportive of U.S. intervention in Latin America. Also gaining ground at that time was the nuclear disarmament movement in Europe.

President Anwar Sadat of Egypt, known for his contribution to peace in the middle-east, was assassinated by a Libyan hit-squad. American General Dozier was kidnapped in Italy by Red Brigade terrorists but was safe at home within the month.

In Britain Prince Charles took Lady Diana Spencer as his bride in a wedding whose splendour may not be matched again.

Meanwhile on the National front President Reagan struggled with the economy and a faltering auto industry. Many may not have noticed but an oil glut caused the price of gasoline to drop a few cents.

California had the record for the highest percentage of eligible males failing to register for the draft and Sandra Day O'Connor was appointed as the first woman judge on the supreme court.

In space, wonderful pictures of Jupiter and Saturn came back from Voyager, the Soviets managed to land a probe on Venus and our glorious space-shuttle took to the skies once again. The destruction of the earth did not come about, as many misguided folks feared, when the planets "lined up" on March 10th.

Disasters that did happen included plane crashes in Boston, Tokyo, and

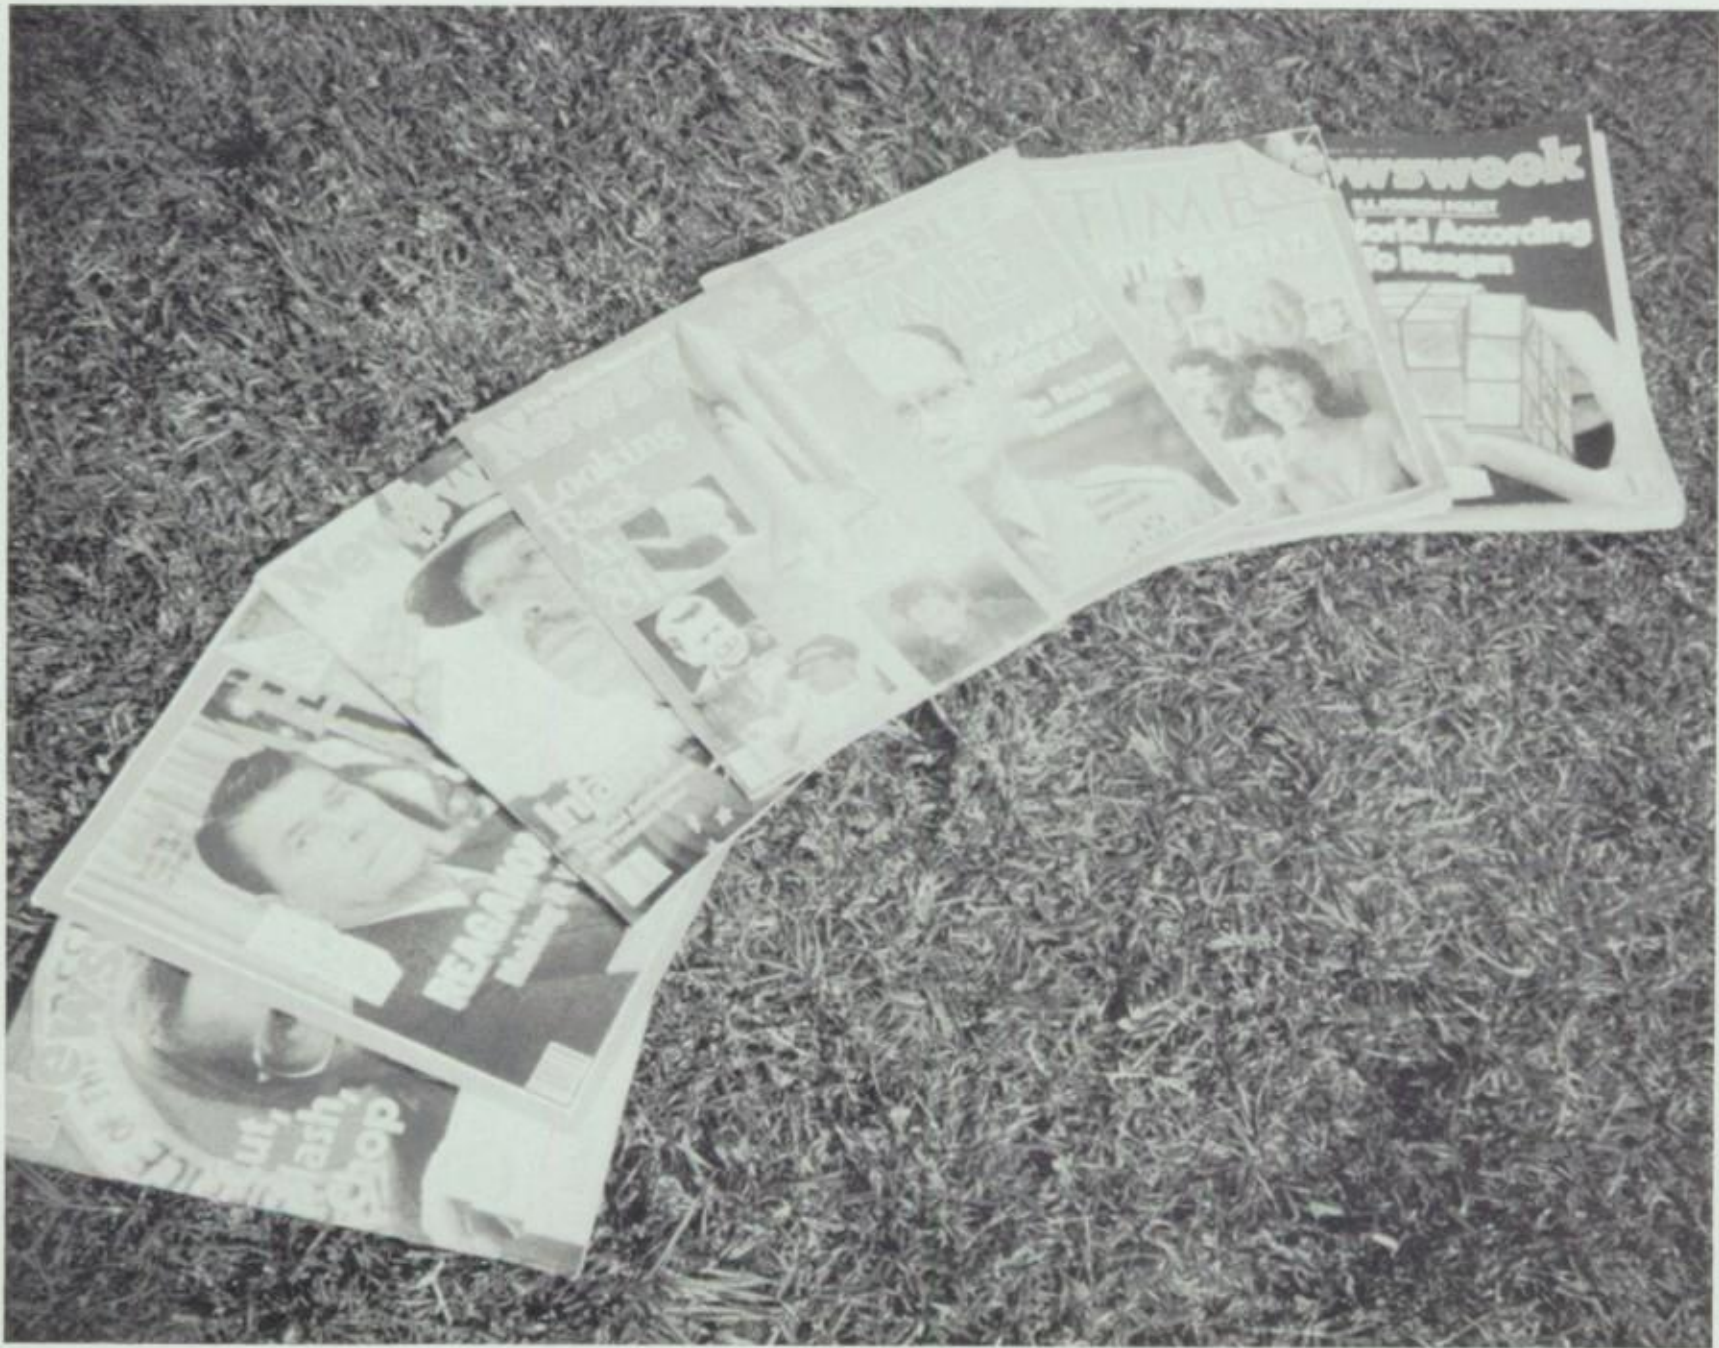

Washington D.C. making people again wonder if our skies are safe to travel in. In Kansas City walkways in the Hyatt Hilton collapsed and brought horrible pain and death to the unfortunate below. The East also faced one of the worst winters in history.

In sports, the San Diego Sockers won the indoor league championship (the first San Diego Major league champions since the old AFL Chargers in the 60's). The Chargers had a banner year but lost to the 49ers.

The Padres were less than stunning in this year of the baseball strike. Still, there was a world series, in which rookie pitching sensation Fernando Valenzuela helped the Dodgers to victory over the Yankees.

Finally, the world driving champion was Grand Prix racer Nelson Piquet of Brazil.

Tragic deaths the past year included writers Ayn Rand and Phillip K. Dick, actors William Holden, Natalie Wood and John Belushi, and reggae master Bob Marley.

The School Year
In Review

In The Event Of . . .

San Diego continued to recycle itself through restoration this year. The Gaslamp Quarter in downtown is helping tourism by changing the store fronts back to the way they were in the days of old and bringing people back to the heart of San Diego. The Santa Fe company has made proposals with the city counsel to restore the old railroad depot.

The Tijuana Trolley now makes its runs from downtown to the Mexican border and back. Plans are in the works for the routes of the bright red cars to be greatly expanded.

The San Diego Playboy Club opened its doors in 1981 to some controversy. Some conservatives were opposed to there being such a club here, although Playboy Clubs are in nearly every major city of the free world.

The Pacific Beach branch of the U.S. Post Office is soon to leave its cramped, temporary headquarters in the former motorcycle shop on Garnet St., to a brand new building on Cass St. (former home of the Roxy Theater).

The most exciting news to hit the area was the completion of the "new" Old Globe Theater. After a devastating fire, many campaigned to raise money to rebuild the Shakespearean playhouse. Financial aid from every organization from large businesses to rock groups contributed money for the cause. The opening was a star-studded gala and the new theater was better and bigger than before.

Events here at school were minimal. Not even the occasional outbursts of graffiti or the annual locker massacres dampened our everyday lives.

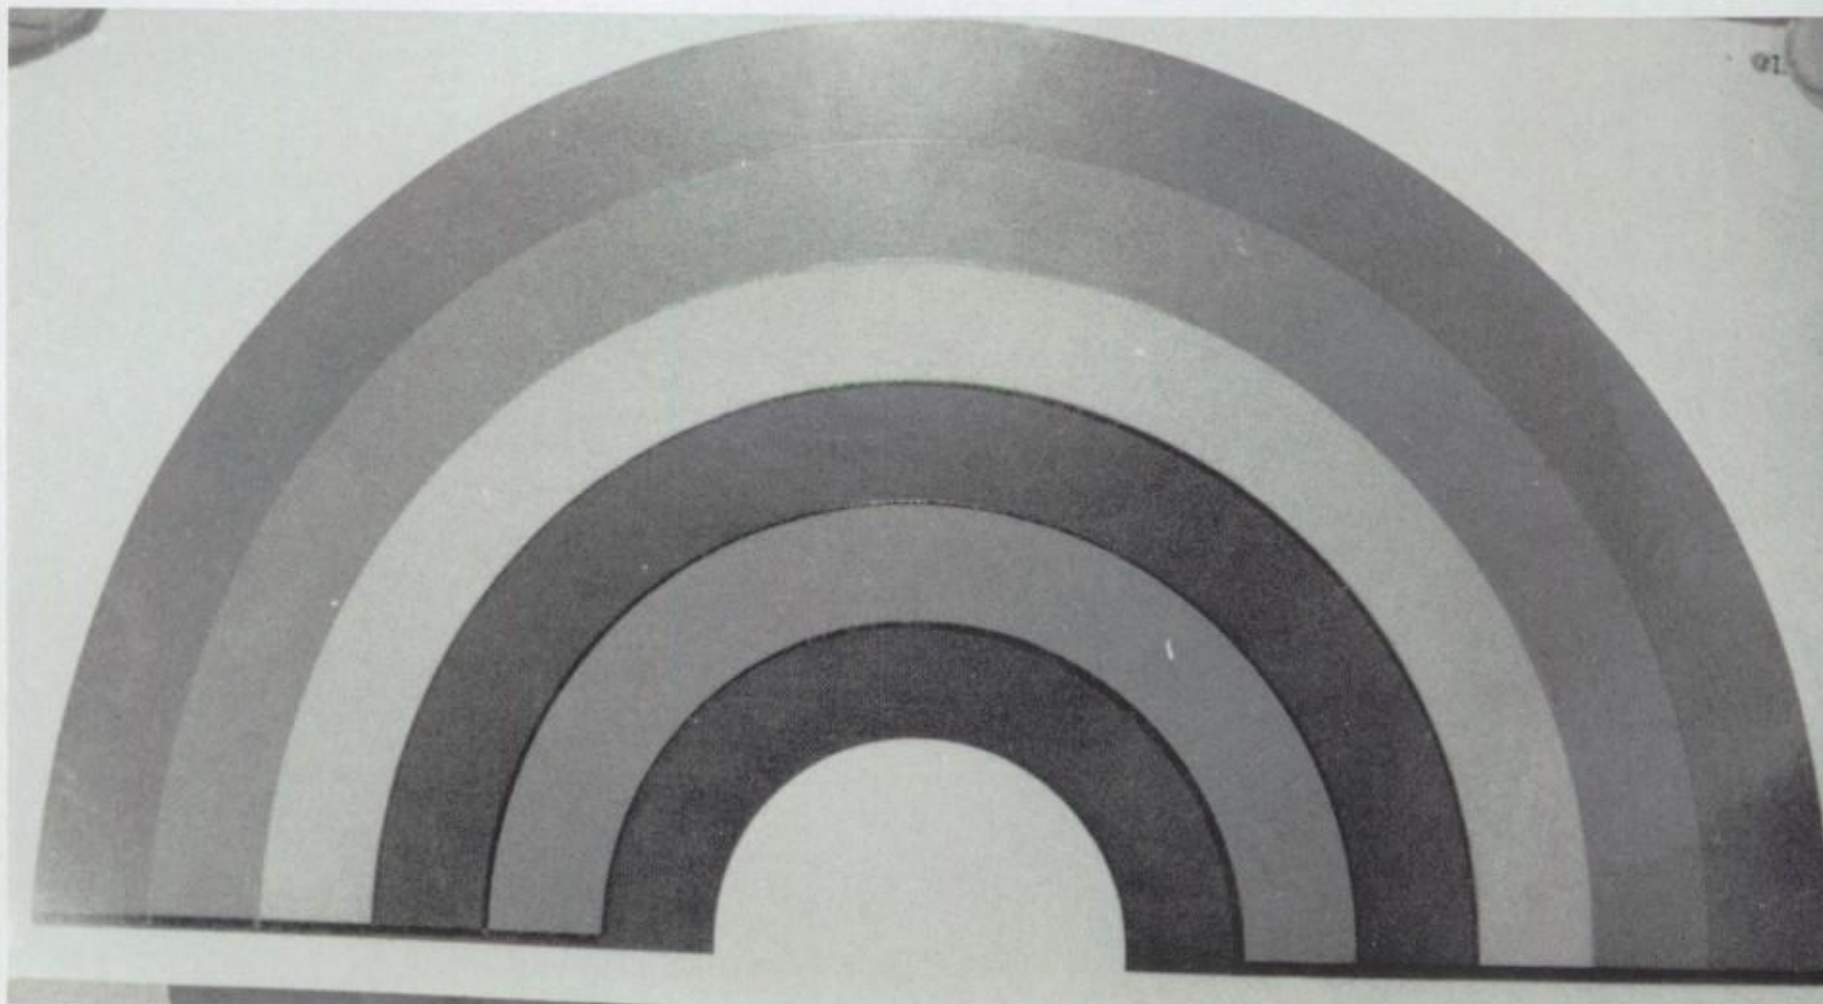

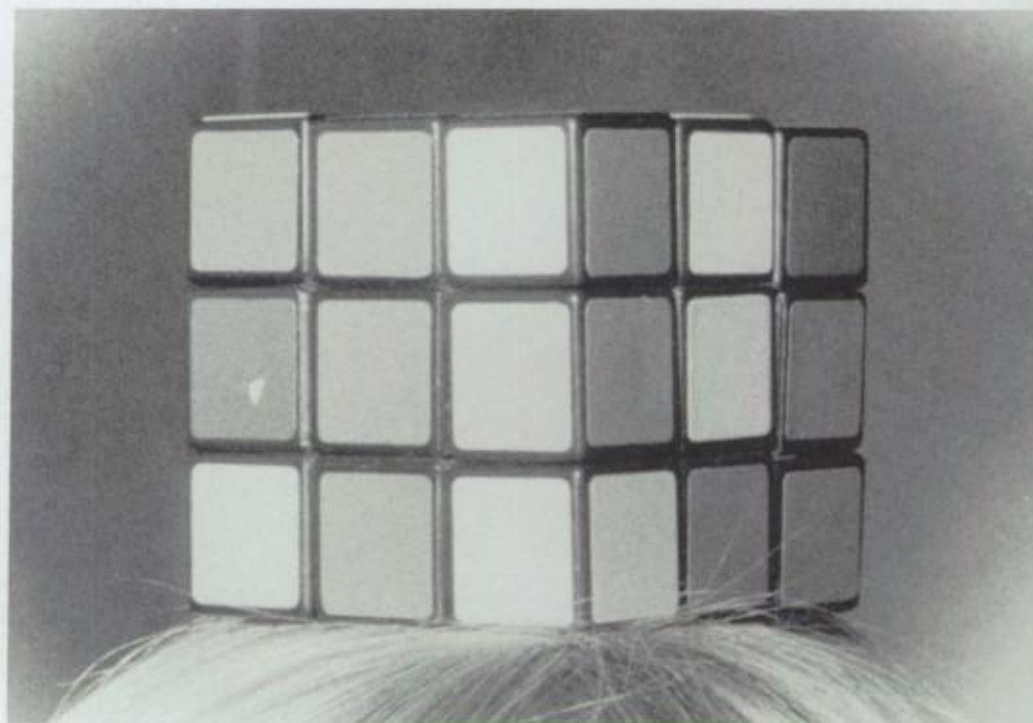

Don't Trend on Me

1981 and 1982 brought with the passing of months, the usual baggage of bagatelles: trends. There was no sweeping trend to mark 1981 that was nearly as unforgettable as the Hula-Hoop, the love bead necklace, the Frisbee, or the slinky. Nevertheless, there were more people with punk-haircuts, Rubiks Cubes, digital watches, and video games and video game players. Some of these trends have already begun to taper off, and no doubt some will nearly disappear. Most, however, will become merely images in our kaleidoscopic society.

Rubik Cubes (a very popular pastime this year) can go to your head.

Fa-fa-fa-Fashion

Nothing has as big an effect on fashion as the four M's: Money, music, morals, and mother . . . Money not being one of the biggest problems of Mission Bay enrollment, but it does come into play when shopping at Bloomingdales. Music is probably the biggest factor in the way we dress; it throws different people from the extremes of safety pins and trench coats, to Fedmart ski jackets and Led Zeppelin belt buckles. Moral and mothers go hand in hand and effect the highs and lows of dress lengths as well as the blood constricting factor in designer jeans. But there's one thing you must remember about fashion . . . it is no ordinary word.

Interesting styles are apparent from the knees down. Observe: (clockwise from right) Western style is obvious Dingo cowboy boots, the Casual — sneakers, Spirit — Buc sox and Winos, the inevitable leg-warmers w/ woven sandals, and What a combo — knickers and pumps (black yet!).

They fit tight; they look right. They're designer jeans. The brands are self-evident.

This past year seemed to be more lucrative than previous years for the music biz, although an air of caution still persisted. The record companies reflected the conservatism of the times by push-promoting very mainstream music by well-known acts on the radio and in record stores.

Nevertheless, several new acts surfaced including Asia, Greg Lake, Riot, Jim Messina, Motley Crue, Novo Combo, Sheena Easton, Prism, and Quarterflash.

Almost as many old groups resurfaced: King Crimson, Sir Douglas Quintet, Simon & Garfunkel (for one huge concert), Three Dog Night, John Mayall's Blues Breakers, Gary J.S. Bonds, the original Chipmunks, and Crosby, Stills and Nash.

Balancing out the old blood were groups that finally gave it up, such as Gentle Giant, The Babys, The Eagles, and Rockpile.

More than ever before, Rock-sound tracks won laurels and hearty praise. Vangelis' "Chariots of Fire" won the Best Soundtrack Academy Award. Keyboard wizards Keith Emerson, Rick Wakeman, and Tangerine Dream scored "Nighthawks," "The Burning," and "Thief," respectively. Former Led Zeppelin guitarist Jimmy Page did the soundtrack for "Death Wish II." Finally, David Byrne created the music for the Broadway production of the ballet "The Catherine Wheel."

Albums that ventured into new areas of music either sold well and were generally despised or became widely acclaimed cult classics. "Pac-Man Fever" went unabashedly for the leftover quarters of the video game enthusiast, "Hooked on Classics" was fine for those who'd always dreamed of disco-ing to Beethoven, and "Urban Chipmunk" brought new life to the pre-pubescent country music scene.

Some experimental albums were meant to be taken seriously, however. Public Image Ltd.'s "The Flowers of Romance" was a psychedelic haunted house while minimalist composer Philip Glass generated a richly textured dream-world with "Glassworks." Brian Eno & David Byrne blended a complex African sound with tapes of exorcists, politicians, chanting Muslims, and other strange voices for their extravagant "My Life in the Bush of Ghosts." "As Falls Wichita, So Falls Wichita Falls," by jazz musicians Pat Metheny & Lyle Mays, suggested spacey Mid-Western landscapes. Finally, guitarist Fred Frith employed instruments such as the snake saxophone and the forgotten mellotron in his album "Speechless." None of these albums sold that well, but they are the landmarks by which 1981 and 1982 could be musically judged.

Though we don't yet know which musicians were born in '81-'82, we do know those that expired. Rasta master Bob Marley (brain cancer), brilliant jazz pianist Thelonius Monk (pneumonia), Blues Brother John Belushi (drug-overdose), and heavy-metal guitarist Randall Rhoades (plane crash) all died.

Richard Pryor's latest.

Some new releases.

The 1981-82 movie year was a real crowdpleaser. The troubled movie industry was given new life due to the runaway success of movies like Raiders of the Lost Ark, Superman II, Cannonball Run, Chariots of Fire, and On Golden Pond.

Of course, there were the usual number of flops as well, along with the expected amount of teenage massacre movies. The film fan was given a wide variety of movies to see (or not to see). They ranged from An American Werewolf in London, Time Bandits, Wolfen, Quest for Fire, and Heavy Metal; to Making Love and Personal Best; to Death Wish II, The Seduction, Vice Squad, and Student Bodies; to Body Heat, Atlantic City, Reds, Shoot the Moon, and Ragtime; to Endless Love, A Little Sex, Porky's, and last but not necessarily least, Cat People.

Important Academy Awards were given to John Gielgud (Arthur) for Best Supporting Actor, Maureen Stapleton (Reds) for Best Supporting Actress, Henry Fonda (On Golden Pond) for Best Actor, Katherine Hepburn (On Golden Pond) for Best Actress, and Chariots of Fire won the Best Picture Award.

The public and movie industry were shocked when they learned that leading man William Holden, multi-talented actress Natalie Wood, and Saturday Night Live Alumnus John Belushi tragically died.

Finding out where to watch what.

Yet another Neil Simon flick.

From T.V. movies like "Divorce Wars" (television's exploitation of the film Kramer vs. Kramer), to "action" shows like T.J. Hooker, Strike Force, Today's F.B.I., and McClain's Law, to inane situation comedies (name your own), to the sudsy pathos of late-night soap operas like Falcon Crest, Knot's Landing, Dallas and Flamingo Road, television remained an intellectual wasteland.

There were exceptions, of course, SCTV was an innovative and unusually sophisticated late-night satire of television. The PBS network offered its viewers programs that nourished the mind like Life on Earth, Shock of the New, and Masterpiece

Theatre. Police Squad, created by the writers of the popular films The Kentucky Fried Movie and Airplane, continued with the tradition of verbal slapstick and sight gags set by those movies. The most acclaimed program to appear on television for many years was Hill Street Blues, a multi-E Emmy winner praised for its stark realism and believable characters.

Cable television was the subject of much discussion. Viewers could watch everything from major films to minor league hockey to X-rated extravaganzas, all in the privacy of their own dwellings. At least now viewers have a choice.

People

People are human beings making up a group or assembly or linked by a common interest. But more commonly defined as the mass of a community as distinguished from a special class.

Looking out over a sea of humanity in the weedpatch.

On Top of Underclass

This year, the Sophomore and Junior class cabinets worked hard to bring forth the voice of the people they represented. Sophomore Class President Vittorio Roberti and Junior Class President Arlene Tuey led their cabinets and always expressed the importance of their jobs to their fellow cabinet members. It was the seriousness the cabinets brought to their positions that benefitted the ASB.

Oh, What a Feeling!

On any Sunday, when the wind is at least eight knots, you can look up in the sky over the shores of Torrey Pines, and probably catch a glimpse of sophomore Barry Dost soaring and turning as silent as a hawk with his hanglider.

At the age of thirteen, Barry began taking lessons from Flight Realities, and has been improving ever since. "It takes a lot of energy, coordination and concentration to keep going," he explained. "I'd really like to put more time into it."

Going as far as Mexico to practice, Barry concentrates mainly on seeing how high and how long he can fly. His current time record is an hour. Dropping from a hot-air balloon and lifting off from water skies are a few other things he would like to try. "Flying is the funnest thing, but I'd have to say crashing isn't very enjoyable."

Barry also enjoys bicycle riding, and has even placed first in a motorcross race.

One Man Band

The flute and piano are just a few musical instruments that sophomore Art Fisher plays. He also plays the piccolo and saxophone. He does a little singing too.

Art's talent for music comes quite naturally. His father, a music teacher, has made music a family hobby, and is very much responsible for developing Art's skill from a young age.

Aside from the Mission Bay Jazz Ensemble, Art also plays for the San Diego Gilbert and Sullivan Reperatory, which gives him the right to call himself a professional musician. He has also had the honor to play at the Governor's mansion, and has earned himself a Neggrette Award.

What does Art find most rewarding? "The competition, the applause, meeting all kinds of people, and everybody looking at me incredulously when I tell them I play so many instruments."

In the future, Art plans on working as a musician part-time, but would also like to fulfill his ambition to get a job as a computer programmer. He also enjoys model rocketry, acting, and motorcycle riding.

Display of Talent

Elizabeth Richardson has participated in photography for two years now. She was twelve years old when she first started photography and she got serious about it when she was thirteen. She started in photography when her mom opened a photo business. Elizabeth says "I enjoy taking pictures of interesting things." She looks forward to becoming a commercial artist and majoring in advertising. Her goals are to start a new business to become a photographer for a top magazine. The most rewarding thing for her is when she gets to develop her own film to see her finished product. Elizabeth is most disappointed when she can't produce the right picture as she sees it in her mind. Some of the activities pertaining to her talent are still life, model portfolios, and scenics. She enjoys going to all kinds of different places to take her pictures. She also enjoys playing the piano and being with friends.

Coming Your Way

"Ice skating is a disciplined sport, often calling for years of work before glory, if any, will come your way. It is a sport that means getting up at 4a.m., hard work, total attention, and dedication to eventually reaching your goal."

Tom Mournian, a sophomore, has been ice skating for about 5 years (he started when he was in the 5th grade). He continues because he is trying to become the "best."

His goal is to make it to the Nationals. Attaining his goals and the satisfaction of constantly improving are most rewarding for him. Tom is most disappointed when he cannot produce what is expected of him. He enjoys the satisfaction of accomplishment of what he sets out to do. Tom has other hobbies as well, such as biking, swimming, and reading.

Special Talent

In April, 1981, Beth Shedeler went with a friend to help out at a floor hockey tournament for the Special Olympics, and has been giving volunteer help ever since.

On Tuesday nights, Beth goes to the YWCA and helps disabled children exercise, do calisthenics, and get ready for their next tournament. Then, on special days, she goes with the children ranging from ice skating and skiing, to gymnastics and swimming.

Why does she continue? "I like to help people and motivate them to try harder. I love to see the athletes succeed, and they are enthusiastic and really appreciate me! It's really just a great feeling."

In the future, Beth plans to become more involved, and maybe even devise a new activity and be in charge of it.

Highland Laddie

Gary McCormack has been playing the bagpipes since he was fifteen. His interest was inspired by his great grandfather, who played very well in Scotland where Gary was born.

Gary improves his skills by taking lessons once a week and practicing at least an hour a day. "Amazing Grace" and "Highland Laddie" are just a couple of songs he can play. When he gets good enough, Gary would like to enter a police drumcore, and maybe compete in the Highland games.

"I play mostly for my friends and family, I really enjoy knowing that people like listening to the pipes being played."

Gary also enjoys soccer, football, drawing and swimming.

Music Express

Frank Torres has been a D.J. (Disc Jockey) for two years. He was 13 years old when he decided he should become serious about it. He's always liked music and continues to because he knows he can get people to like his kind of music. He is looking forward to become a professional D.J.

What does Frank think is most rewarding? "Watching people enjoy my music." Some of the events he plays music for are birthday parties, weddings, and quinsenas. His biggest disappointment is when he experiences technical difficulties with his equipment.

Frank Torres enjoys playing his music. He also enjoys playing sports and fixing up cars.

BIZARRE

Did you think you were out of your mind the first time you saw "Bizarre Brett" riding his unicycle around school wearing his T-shirt that said, "Eat A Penguin?" Well, you weren't, he was! Brett Jones has been riding his one-wheeler since the summer of 1981. Brett started this unique hobby because it was challenging and attention getting. "People who need more than one wheel are insecure," said Brett. He says unicycle riding is very difficult because coasting is impossible since the unicycle has direct drive. Brett plans to keep riding his unicycle, but he's not going to run away and join the circus!

Painting Her World

Patty Bancroft has been drawing ever since she was little. She started out just drawing stick-horses, but now she oil paints portraits of real ones. Patty says she'll draw anything in sight, but loves to draw animals and horses the most. In one and a half months, Patty completed a painting of a horse which she sold for $400. She currently is doing paintings for people that own horses where she rides regularly. Patty believes, "anybody can be artistic if they really want to!"

Finger Lookin' Good

Since Valentines Day of 1980, Georgianne Rangel has been painting her fingernails in odd ways. "George," as she is known, usually has nails that stick out in a crowd. Her nails have been anywhere from 1-6 different colors at one time. To keep this hobby of hers going, "George" has about 90 bottles of nail polish, with 75-80 different colors. She spends about 5 minutes per coat on her unique fingers. Her favorite style is putting a rainbow on all 10 nails. "George" says, "It gives me something to do while I talk on the phone."

Racing Wonder

For about 7 years, Ronda Cox has been seriously riding her bicycle. She goes on long distance rides as well as races. Over the years that Ronda has been riding, she has had a few accidents, but only one really serious one. She ended up with 80 stitches in her leg, and a fractured ear canal, which meant wiring her jaw shut for three weeks. But even after this serious accident in July 1981, Ronda was soon back on her bike.

Erika Cornell has done what few other students at Mission Bay have done. She does tricks and pyramids on water skis. Erika started water skiing when she was about 4 or 5 years old because they had a boat, so her uncle taught her how to ski. Before the 1981-82 school year started, Erika and her skiing partners skied at least every other day, doing 3 man pyramids, tricks, and slalomns. Now Erika does some side shows and 360s, and would like to get competitive in the future. Erika and her water skiing group feel that someday they would like to get into shows, but as of now, they'll just practice a lot.

Wow! You have got to be kidding! Kris Quinones is the #1 girls badminton player in the county? It is true. Kris has been playing this competitive sport for two years now. She started playing badminton because her brother and father played it well and she wanted to be a part of it. She learned well. She is now on the Mission Bay Badminton Team. A while back she took 4th in 15 & under Girls Singles U.S. Jr. Nationals. Now she wants to win the U.S. Jr. Nationals. When asked about badminton, she stated, "Most people don't realize what badminton is. They think of it as a backyard sport, but there is a professional circuit."

Gymnast Perfector

If you ever wanted to know anything about gymnastics, just ask Suzanne Woods because she's done it all. Suzanne is on a gymnastic team and travels all over. Among some of these places are Catalina Island, Florida, Texas, and L.A. as well as many other places.

Suzanne says, "Gymnastics is a lot of hard work. It gives me a sense of pride, and it makes me feel good about myself." She would like to coach a major gymnastics team, perhaps the U.S. Olympic Team some day. At the present time, she is teaching young children.

Suzanne puts a lot of work into her sport, so she practices four hours six days a week. Good luck to Suzanne and all her gymnastic dreams.

TMRs mix well in the Mission Bay social scene.

TMR

This year, Mission Bay received a new kind of program. This program was called the Trainable Mentally Retarded (TMR) class. The TMR's ranged in age from 16 to 22 years, and from many mental and physical handicaps. The teachers for this class, Dick Ekhaml and Sue Gerrish, worked hard all year round with these students to help them adapt to living normal lives among society. The TMR students participated with all the regular students by attending school assemblies and eating in the cafeteria with them. The TMR's were accepted on campus very well. Students accepted the TMR's by socializing and making them feel more comfortable.

Bye

Graduation is a day of both hopes and fears. We realize how close we have all become during our schooling, and feel a sense of loss at having to leave these friends of ours and make our way into the real world. What we find out there depends on how we get out there. Some will go on to college, in hopes of gaining vast knowledge and skills for careers. Others will enter jobs immediately, throwing themselves bodily at the American Dream. Many will run in droves for the nearest party, doing their best to avoid a staid existence; others will run for the altars, eager to begin family life. Some will serve their country in the armed forces, and every graduating male faces the possibility of being drafted. The road of our future leads off in an infinite number of directions, and we have only walked a small portion of that road.

SENIORITIS

It strikes without warning, instantly reducing facial expressions to the smoothness of marble. The victim enters the catatonic lock, lost in the vacuum of apathy. The only movement from the frozen jaws is the primordial mumble of, "PAR-DEE! Where party?!!!" In short, the victim is suitable for salads.

The disease is called Senioritis (seen-your-eye-tis) and, as the name implies, it affects Seniors (although, of course, some students have had it throughout high-school). Several teachers have been severely endangered, trapped in their classrooms by a forest of blank stares.

Strangely, all acute attacks of Senioritis have been recorded on high school campuses only. Stranger still, victims upon removal from campus behave with great vivacity, and seem to be enjoying themselves. "A singularly satiating malignancy," observed one doctor, crackling in his vernacular. Another doctor couldn't stop giggling long enough to answer our questions. It must be made clear that Senioritis is a serious disease, as juniors next year will come to learn.

An excellent reproduction of the devastating effects of Senioritis, the destructive old disease in the sparkling new package. Top, Cathy Russell, Cheryl Boykin, Tom Bischel, Jodi Carmona. Bottom, Ray Moore, Sharon Alston, Tom Nelson.

From the depths of the crowds, the embracing smiles of Sheryl Schroeder and Chappy Mico project themselves like floodlights. Chappy enjoys snow skiing and surfing. Best Looking

Both Tod Kellogg and Steve Mills epitomize the California beach look. Tod is co-captain of the Varsity swim team and she also enjoys snow skiing, while Steve plays baseball and Over-The-Line. When asked what they enjoyed doing in their spare time, Tod said she likes to, "walk on the beach" and Steve claims his hobby is, "eating." And when we asked if they admired anyone else's physical attributes, Steve mentioned the ever-popular model Christie Brinkley, and Tod thought a moment and then said, "Miss Piggy is awesome."

RANDY GARLAND

Most Likely To Succeed

The two striking a dignified stance below, it is fairly certain, will be doing very well once released from high school. Chi Shan Wai and Tod Klingler have been at the top of their classes all through high school and greatly participate in school affairs. Chi Shan is going east for college to get a liberal arts background, and isn't sure what she will do but is sure that she will succeed in anything she decides to do. Tod wants to attend Stanford, where he will major in computer or physical science, and hopes to become a scientist.

Most Stylish

Styles are difficult to keep up with, but both Mike DaVee and Deena Horacek seem to be able to manage (although the fashions above were courtesy of the Salvation Army). Deena works in a clothing store and says that it helps her keep in touch with the latest fashions. Mike also won in this category in 9th grade, even though he doesn't "find" his dress that stylish. Perhaps that's why he won. Deena wishes to go on to cosmetology school, but Mike is still uncertain about his future.

Rob Burden and Judy Markland have been in the forefront of the Mission Bay sports scene for all their high school lives. Rob has been on the baseball and football teams all three years he's been at MB, acting as starting catcher and quarterback, and furthermore was this year's team captain of both teams.

Not to be outdone, Judy has run on the track and cross country teams and won all C.I.F. honors. Beyond high school, both plan on attending college, Rob as a business major and Judy studying general education and continuing her running.

Most Talented

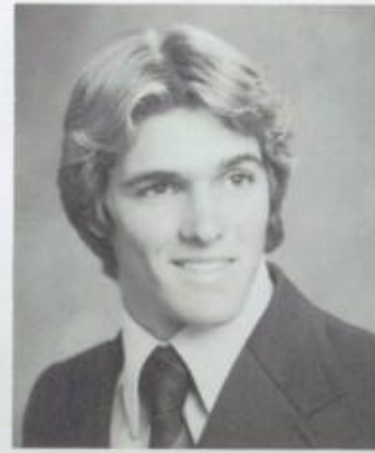

Kim Giesser and John Bodinger have numerous talents, obviously. John's forte' is the piano and other keyboards, but he also plays bass guitar, drums, and also sings a little. Kim Giesser, on the other hand, sings a lot: on her own, with the Swing Choir, and with the Jazz Band. She also plays guitar and dances as well. Both John and Kim plan on attending college, John as a music major and Kim in engineering, with possibly some singing on the side.

Senior Ditch Day

One day late in March, footsteps in senior classrooms were empty hollows, because the seniors were anywhere but at school. Seniors blazed their way to the beach, to parties, to other houses, or just stayed home and engaged in some intense game-show and soap opera watching. It's no holiday for the teachers, who had to show up and try to find new and interesting ways of killing time.

This was Senior Ditch Day, an activity so popular that almost every senior participated, proving the maxim that most people, given the opportunity, will take a day off. The activity was also very illegal. As bulletins prior to the day repeatedly warned, seniors could receive a truant for not showing up at school. Still, martial law was not declared.

Biggest Flirts

When asked why they flirt so vigorously, Nicole Nyiri and Reynaldo Vinole agreed that they enjoy it because it, "makes people feel wanted." Both Nicole and Reynaldo have been perfecting their skills ever since they can remember. Reynaldo's technique involves a lot of sweet talk and he says that working fast is also important in achieving success. But Nicole claims her flirting career is over because she says she has finally found true love.

Most School Spirit

Both Kim Tilton and Damon Mosler believe that school spirit is an important aspect of high school life. Kim has been a cheerleader for the past three years and has been a participant in many MB functions. Damon is President of the A.S.B. and also attends as many school events as possible. Off campus, Kim enjoys water and snow skiing as well as backpacking. Beyond high school, Damon looks towards a possible career as a doctor. Damon and Kim agree that MB spirit is on the rise.

Class Comic

Class Comics throughout the ages have relieved a lot of classes of a lot of tedium, and the two able practitioners of this genre selected in this year's Senior Standout election are not exceptions. Of class comedy, Tyrone Harvey says, "it's nothing you think about. It's a spur of the moment thing." Tyrone likes to fence and sketch, and hopes to become an actor or singer. Sheryl Schroeder likes snow-skiing, volleyball and drawing cartoons. Mesa College and being a florist are in her plans, and whatever she does, she says she "enjoys being happy."

Above & Beyond

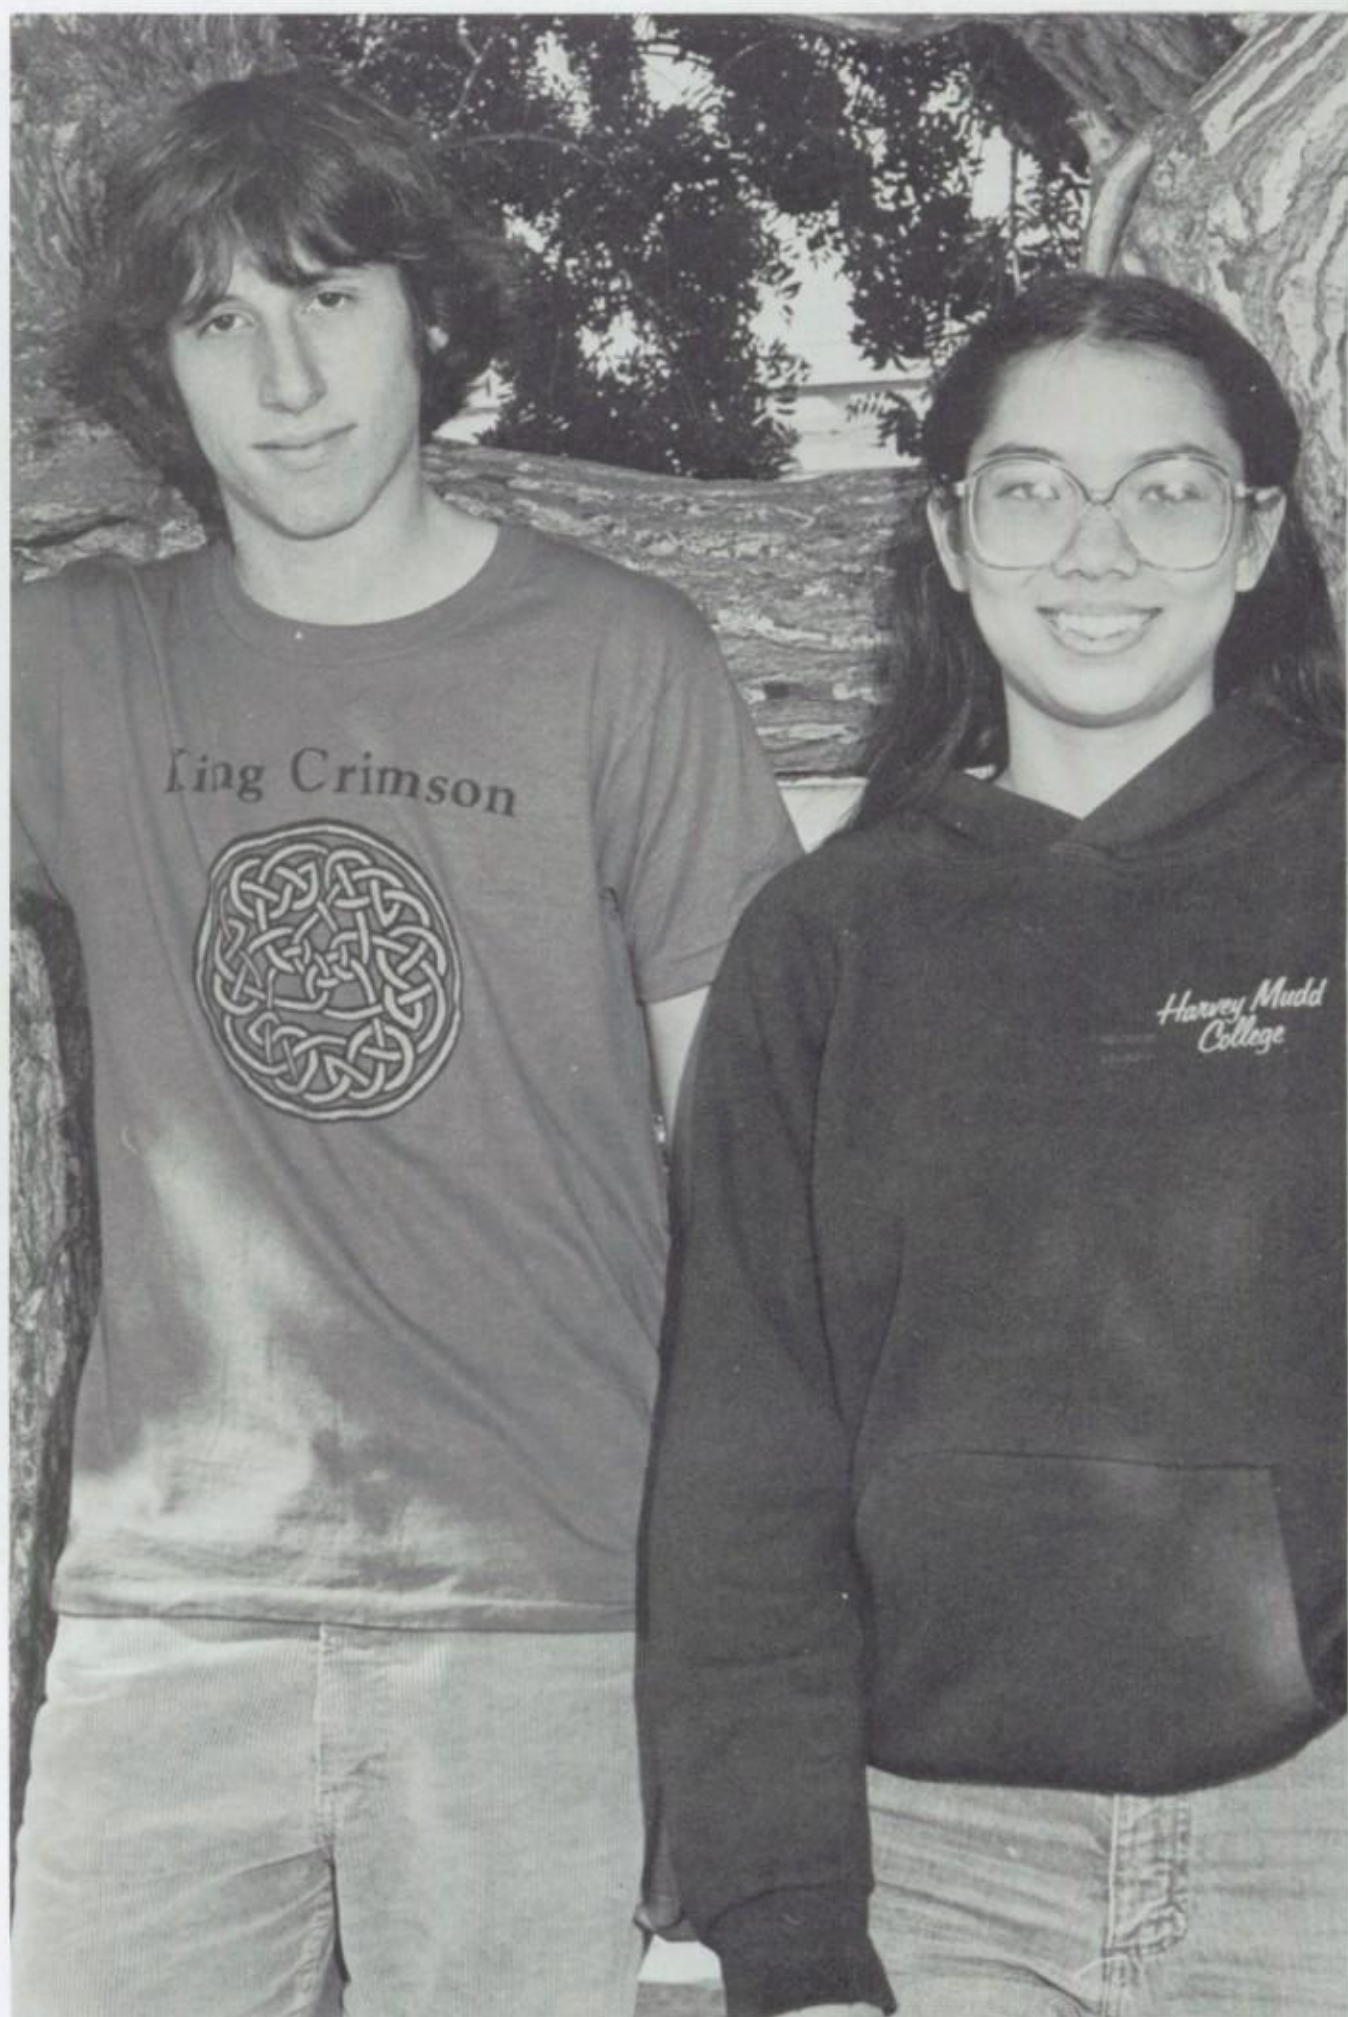

As always, this year several Mission Bay Students were recognized by MB and various organizations for their achievements.

Elise Bartosik was chosen as MB's candidate to attend Girls State. For one week in June and July, she will participate in the American Legion Auxiliary Girls State Convention held at Sacramento State University. There a mock government will be set up. Elise could become eligible to attend Girls Nation in Washington.

Another MB student who represented the school is Arlene Tuey, who attended the Leadership Seminar at Valley Forge that was sponsored by the Freedoms Foundation Auxiliary. From there, Arlene and 149 other students were treated to a VIP tour of Washington D.C.

Victor Perry and Karen White were named National Merit Finalists as a result of their fine performances on the PSAT which they took as juniors. They are now eligible to compete for lucrative scholarships.

The Bank of America plaque winners were John Bodinger for Fine Arts, Heidi Wilson for Liberal Arts, Tod Klingler for Science and Mathematics, and Susan Garrett for Vocational Arts. These four students, chosen by MB faculty, will participate in group discussions and could each win as much as $2000.

BoA Plaque Winners: John Bodinger, Heidi Wilson, Tod Klingler and Susan Garrett.
Susan Garrett won a regional first place and $500.

Barriers

Of all the barriers in life, two of the most formidable are negative thinking and fear of the unknown. Be aware that these barriers may be real or imagined and sometimes you will find it difficult to separate one from the other. Fortunately, we are in an era when many barriers have been broken down or eliminated. The perception people have of their working roles, their social responsibilities and their emotional lives is undergoing a major change.

What you perceive as barriers can foster creative and wiser alternatives. Barriers can become exciting challenges in your life. A positive attitude is then paramount in converting these challenges into stepping stones leading to the realization of your dreams.

Faculty

The Front Office

Mission Bay has held its high standard of excellence through the hard work of all our administrators.

The enrollment at 1,432 students has increased the responsibility of the Counseling Department. The addition of Steve Stangland as a counselor has helped our school to keep the strong academic program running smoothly.

The vice principals, Mr. Hassett and Mrs. Cole, worked together to improve human relations and to make the Center for Marketing, Management, and Graphics work.

Behind the network of administration was the steadfast leader, Mr. Gustav H. Lundmark, making our school one of the best in San Diego County.

Counselors — Top: Iris Jerauld, 10th grade; Robert Fluharty, Head Counselor. Bottom: Pete Terrana, 12th grade; Jerry Sandlin, 11th grade; Steve Stangland, MGM career.

Front Row: P. Saur, A. Eisenhardt, N. Williams, J. Thompson, D. Ronning, M. Sexton, M. Seymour.

Mission Bay is operated not just by faculty and administrators, but is maintained by 4 major groups: the cafeteria workers, custodian staff, secretarial workers, and security.

The cafeteria prepares close to 1800 meals daily with 450 of those served at Mission Bay. The other 1350 meals are eaten by the students of Pacific Beach Junior High, Kate Sessions, and Bay View Terrace Elementary Schools.

Proposition 13 was the cause of the custodial staff being cut by one third. This reduced the performance of the staff, resulting in the classrooms being cleaned once every other day.

Rounding out the staff, the secretarial workers and security helped our Mission Bay High School operate most effectively and efficiently. The secretaries kept track of attendance, school records, and school funds, and helped the principal and counselors process paperwork. The security provided a safe environment for teachers and students. All of these people working together kept M.B. running smoothly.

Back Row: C. Roberts, B. Florence, S. Rearwin, C. Robison, M. Cramer. Front Row: J. Harris, B. Schofield, J. Cannon, M. Persson.

Mutual Respect

The one to one relationship between the students and faculty helped them to be more tolerant of each other. The respect they have for each other is mutual. Members of the faculty encouraged the strengths of students, and they also helped them with their weaknesses. As a result, 70% of the graduates continue their academic career and go on to college (30% to 4 year, and 40% to community college).

The nurse played an important role as part of the M.B. staff. On the average day, she treated approximately 25-30 students (very few serious injuries), and served as a health counselor.

The library staff here at M.B. played an important role too. This year it offered 13,000 books that could be checked out plus 725 reference books. The library subscribed to 113 magazines and six newspapers. Approximately 400 students used the library in one day.

The Magnet Center trained students for careers, both right out of high school and to help them in college. Some of the programs offered paid job employment as part of the class. The drafting and shop classes helped students hone skills useful for both personal and professional purposes. Dedication from the teachers and staff helped to maintain the high academic standard here at M.B.

Disconnect and Disengage

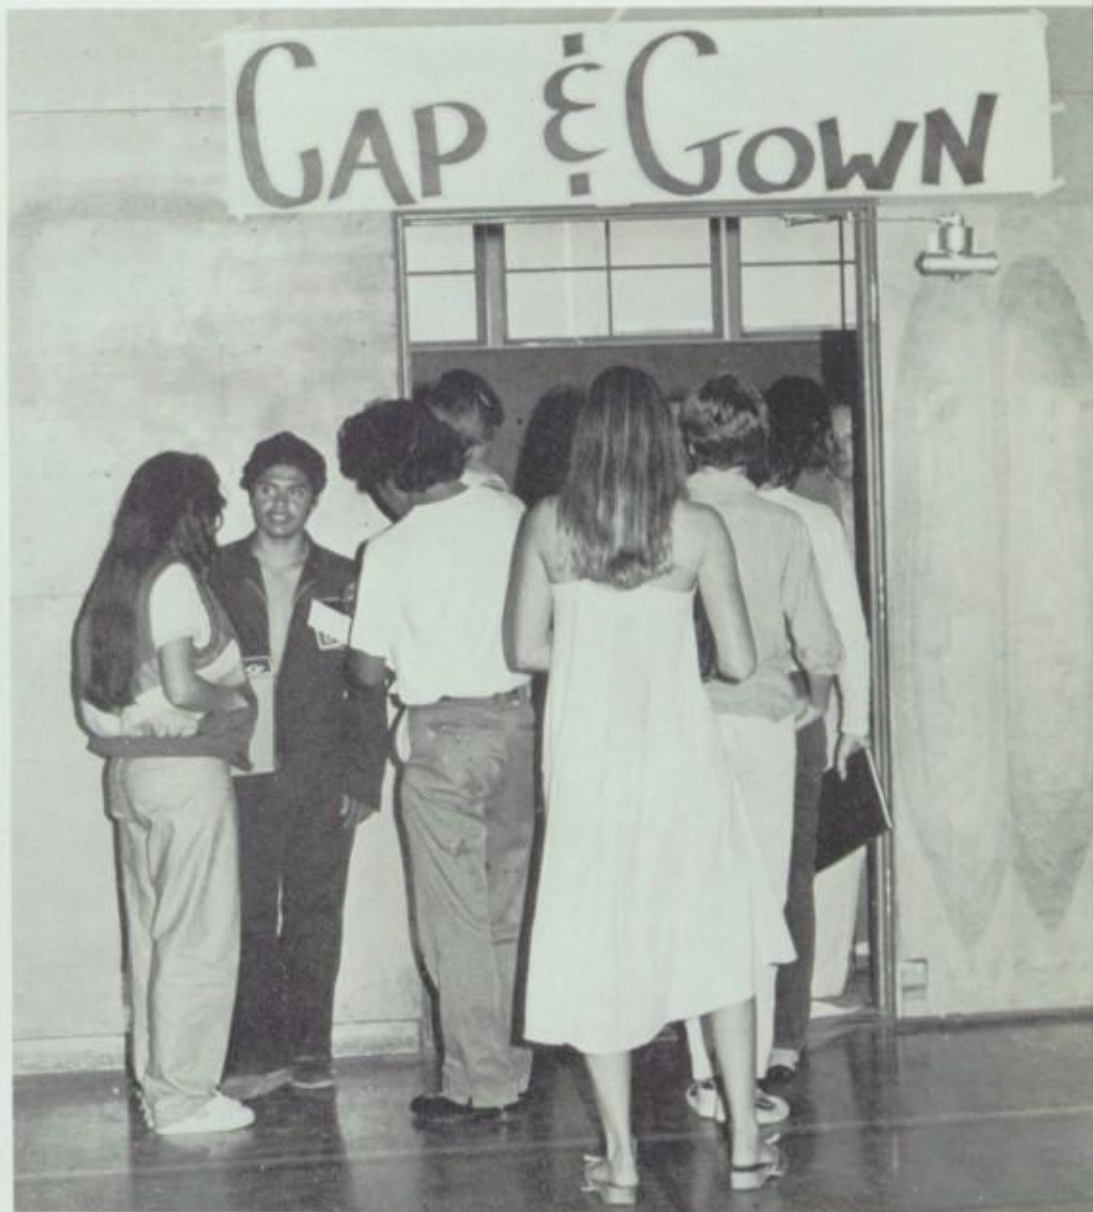

The termination of school: the last of those airbrushed clouds are swept away by the summer-warmed yelling of a crowd that realizes another year of schooling is behind us. The last year for some, just another step for others; the beginning of a season, whether 'tis the season of the bud coming to a joyous flowering or the season of a "brief vacation," certainly it is on to better things from this day forward for all of these champions of education, us.

The closing of the shades by Nick Nikiforakis brings the day to a close.

Leonard Pierini grabs a Tab.

Don Despeigler performs one of his last duties before retiring after 15 years here.

Graduating seniors receive their caps & gowns in the gym.

Mr. Hassett and Mr. Dawson secure the perimeter.

Lonely sidewalk along tranquil Mission Bay

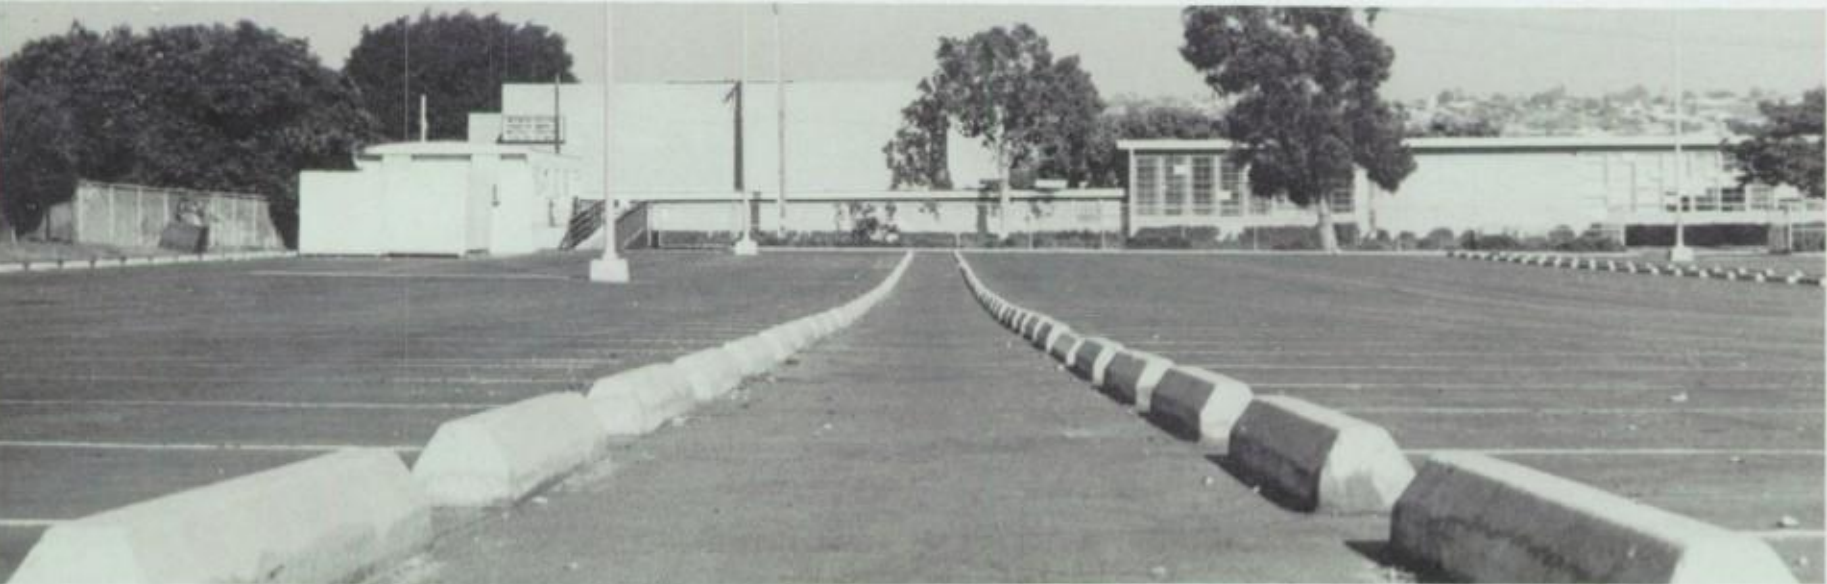

The roads available are colorful and variegated & we have many opportunities to bring our myriad assorted endeavors to climactic riots of happiness. And in that it is our manifest destiny to move always forward, we shall plunge into everything feet first, because we are the generation that listens for opportunity's knock, and hearing it knocking, open the door, and having opened the door, pass over the threshold into a world of reality, armed and shielded with sparkling knowledge!

This Is It!

Late afternoon workout in a physical education course.
Students patiently wait their turn for a meeting with a counselor.

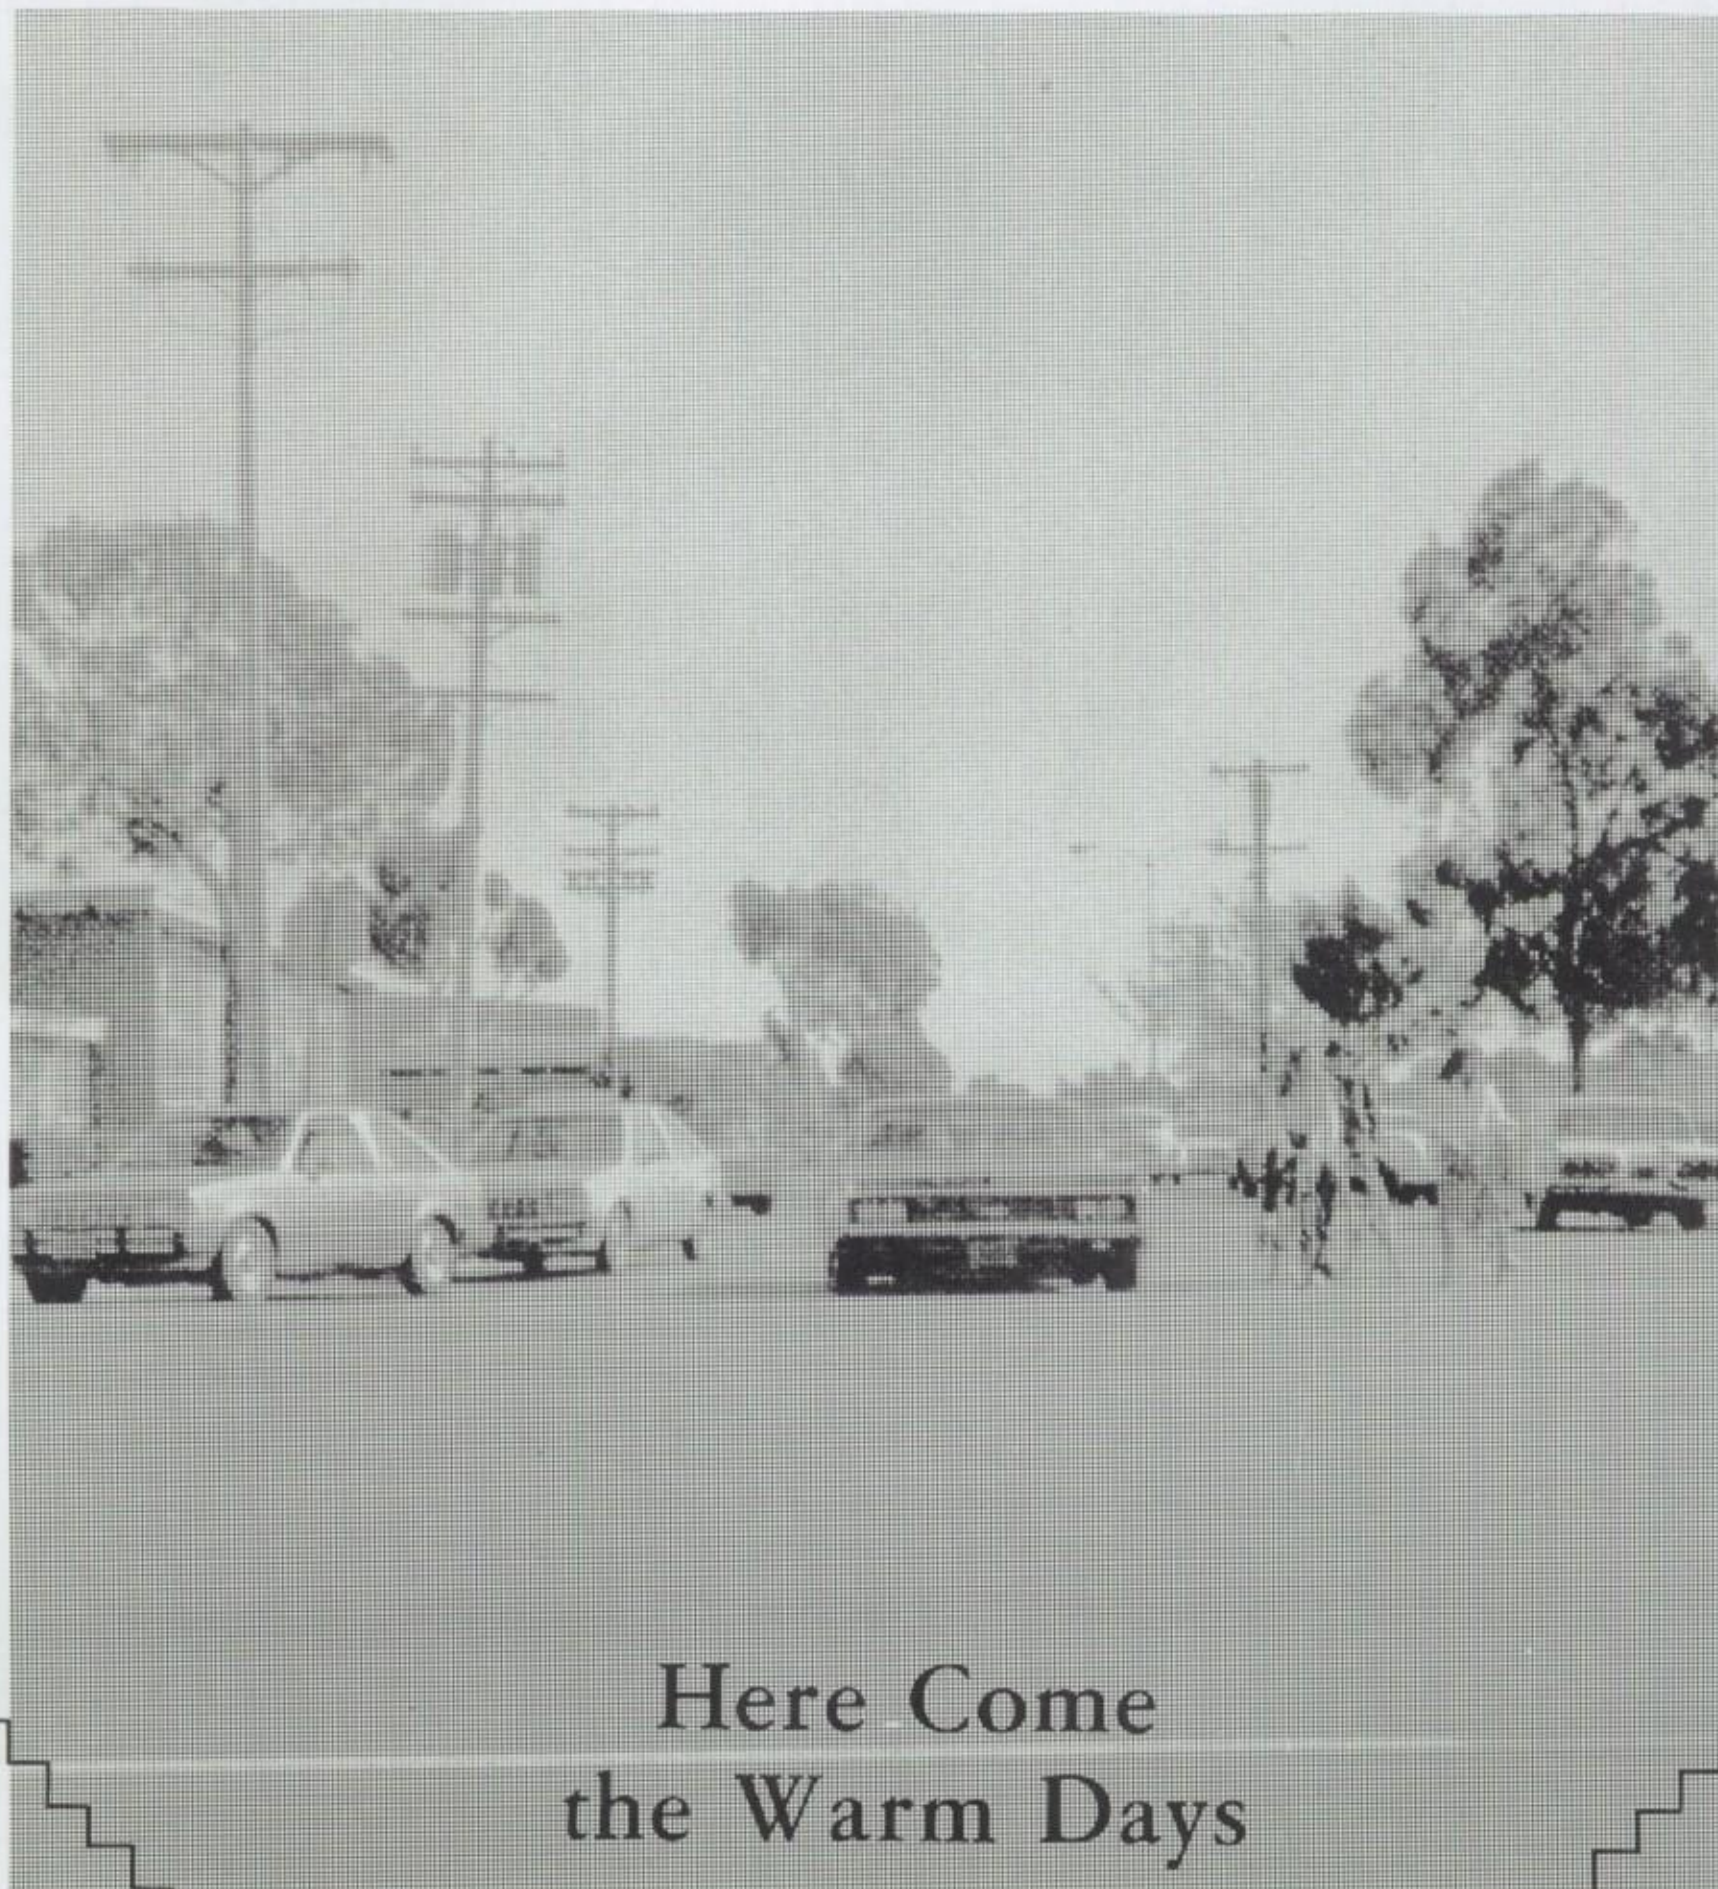

The dominant sign proclaiming the official title of our school.

A state of emptiness finds a temporary niche in the student parking lot.

Early morning fog penetrates the area.

Last day, making plans, planning parties, putting on a permanent smile, hoping you are able to get the same locker next year because it has all the decorations that took you so much time and care to install in it, deciding that you'll get a locker way before school starts again, exhilarating, coming to school dressed for the beach, going through the motions in your classes for nostalgia's sake, daydreaming a lot, looking at things for one last time, repeating "I can't believe it's over . . . the year went by so fast!", looking forward to the 10 year reunion, leaving your name behind in several conspicuous places, jaywalking across Grand to get home, signing yearbooks (plugplugplug), turning things in, not paying your debts so you don't have to pick up your report card, taking everything home, promising to keep in touch, doing wacky stunts so's to be remembered, running off into the summer heat, and saying goodbye.

The Mission Bay High School Yearbook 1982 Vol. 26 was printed by Herff Jones Yearbooks in Marceline, Missouri. 8½ X 11, 80lb., bordeaux paper was used throughout the 244 pages of the book. The cover, Excelsior, was selected by Arian Collins and Mike Nichols from the cover and endsheets booklet supplied by Herff Jones. The cover has a Smyth sewn black cover with "1982 Breaking Barriers" in tan (no, not gold!) ink. The endsheets were the work of Russ Stockton as explained by Mike Nichols from the conception of Eric Possell and Arian Collins. The theme, "Breaking Barriers," was received from an unknown source by Arian Collins.

Fifteen pages of color were used in the Opening and Student Life sections. Spot color included process yellow, colonial blue, and process cyan, and ochre in Student Life; and process cyan, maroon, turquoise, and ochre in the Sports section. Headlines were printed in 30pt. Garamond; subheads printed in 8pt., 12pt., 14pt., and 36pt., Garamond and 24pt. Maximus; feature heads printed in 24 pt. of various type styles; copy printed in 10pt. Garamond and 6pt. Serif Gothic Bold; captions printed in 8pt. Garamond (with first sensible phrase in 8pt. Garamond Bold) quote printed in 14 pt. Garamond; page identifications in 10pt. Garamond; page numbers printed in 14pt. Garamond. Tooling lines from sizes 1-6pt. were used throughout the book.

Underclass and faculty pictures were taken by Campus Pictures. Senior portraits were taken by Busco-Nestor Studios who also furnished photographic supplies and services.

The yearbook staff would like to thank contributing writers.

mitch - I'm really glad I met you this year. I had a really fun time. Hopefully it won't end. I really think you are a sweet guy and I like you a lot. You better keep in touch this summer. If you hear of any parties, let me know! Lots of luck in whatever you're gonna do after school! Best wishes and thanks for the memories!!!

P.S. (Nice Hickey!!)

Give me a call soon! 483-4805

Shannon
#

Mitch,
I'm glad you
decided to go to a sweet guy and a great girl. We are really helping us out on the tests. We are gonna wait a great time tonight.
I can't wait to see you during the summer at the beach or at some parties. Give me a call, keep in touch always,
Mitch,
I'll show you how it's done. Call me up on the first South swell and we'll go for a photo session.
IF you go to Mexico, DEFINITELY call me, I want to go. I could use some clean haja barrels.
Enough surf talk,
276-8838 Have a good life Mitch,
Mark Johnson

Mitch,
Now that the year
is coming to a close,
not to mention High School, Don't you feel like a professional
Model, from Marketing
II class. I can't wait to get my first $100 dollar an hour job. Our Fashion
Show should go to
New York! Ha, Ha,
What a joke! This year has been great fun, and you made it better! Keep Smiling and practice
your poses

Love,

Tad Kellogg

P.S. Have a Super Summer!

Hey Mitch,

Lets Go Surfin Now, Now that I'm learnin How Come ON Go Surfin with me. hahaha. No Seriously Lets Go During the Summer or Give me a call. Photo WAS Run Yee P but Any the bell rang so Gotta Go Later

Leo Schmick

453-5578

Mitch -
 Thanks for the summer here! Let's gonna be a hot summer! Hope to your cute little body down there. We're definitely gonna have to party over a call sometime. 150 give me a call 214-1641.
 I'll call you for fun/pussy '82

Mitch
 we are out of here for good. The summer is gonna be definitely see the over the parties. Give me a call and we'll do something hab

Mitch,
 well after all the crazy parties at Cathy's, I feel like I really know you - you're a super nice guy who is a fun party in kid. So bad you and Cathy didn't work, but she's just a crazy bitch
 (the) well any how the remnants live for ever - well I don't know what to say except keep in touch.
 488-7059 call me. Love you
 Sandy
